

were passed June 29, 1917, and the work was ordered completed before Dec. 31, 1917.

The "short cut" to the extensions which the administration has elected to use is afforded by section 15 of the public utilities act, which provides that the commission may serve and enforce orders directing utilities to make "additions, repairs, extensions, improvements or changes in the existing plant, equipment, apparatus, facilities, or other physical property of the public utility."

"The companies have got a good deal of benefit out of the public utilities act and we are now going to see if the public cannot get some benefits out of it," Mr. Cleveland said.

WILKERSON DEFENDS BOARD

In a discussion of "The Public Utilities and Chicago Traction" at the City club yesterday James H. Wilkerson, former chairman of the public utilities commission, declared the state of Illinois and not the public utilities law is on trial in the present traction controversy.

The commission has had to deal with the Chicago traction situation only as the agency of the state government through which the regulatory law applicable to all public utilities within this state has been applied to these particular companies," Mr. Wilkerson said.

"The commission does not possess arbitrary power. It may not act from whim and caprice. It must not consider political expediency. Its orders should not be issued for campaign purposes. Its decisions are not to be made to conform to what it may imagine is a popular verdict."

Sole Duty Is to Enforce Law.

"It is subject to constitutional limitations and rules laid down in the statute which created it. It has no concern with the wisdom of the law under which it operates. Its duty is to enforce the law as it finds it."

"So far as the Chicago traction question is concerned the public utilities commission have been upheld in every case in which they have been questioned either in the Supreme court of Illinois or the Supreme court of the United States."

"We are living in strange times in this state. Doctrines are being pressed in the name of the people which are utterly destructive of representative government. Constitutions are nothing. Decisions of courts are nothing. Public officials are to be condemned and discredited not because they have disobeyed the law, but because they have dared to respect and follow it. And a confiscatory 5 cent fare must be established regardless of all fundamental constitutional guarantees, because it has made an issue in a political campaign."

Can't Confiscate Properties.

"It is high time for Illinois to return to first principles if it is not to be shamed and discredited before the eyes of the entire nation. Under the law as it now exists, or any law which it is within the power of the general assembly of Illinois to enact, rates which stand the tests of guarantees against confiscation of property will be required in court."

"Against every attempt to take private property for public use without compensation stands the constitution of the United States, and back of the right guaranteed by the constitution is the force of the entire nation."

"Let us make no mistake. It is not the public utilities law which is on trial. It is the state itself—its credit, its financial standing, its reputation for the protection of property. And the time has come when there must be a union of all the forces which believe in constitutional government to preserve unimpaired the credit, integrity, and the name of the state."

CHICAGO CENTER OF 420 BUSINESS MEN'S SOCIETIES

Chicago is headquarters for more state and national trade organizations than any other city in the country, according to a survey just completed by the civic industrial department of the Chicago Association of Commerce. This survey indicated that 220 national and nearly 200 state organizations have headquarters here.

The city's central location, with its exceptional railroad and mailing facilities, is held by the survey report to be the lure of so many trade organizations.

Of 420 organizations checked, 170 were associations of manufacturers, 39 were associations of wholesalers and jobbers, and 114 were general trade associations of retailers, merchants, and professional men.

Robbers Take Taxi Man's Cab and His Uniform

Two bandits robbed Harry Raymond, a taxi driver, 2315 Warren avenue, of $50, his uniform, and his car last night.

William Breen, 207 North Western avenue, a driver employed by Morris & Co. stockyards packers, was robbed of $73 by three armed automobile bandits while at Fall and West Lake streets.

Two Negro bandits entered the Atlantic and Pacific Tea company store, 4116 Indiana avenue, and robbed Edward Smiale, manager of the store of $74.

EXPERTS TO GET A MILLION MORE, FAHERTY SAYS

Mesce and Lynch Work Only Half Completed.

By OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, yesterday defended the city's employment of Frank H. Mesce and Austin J. Lynch as building experts on certain street improvements.

They are collecting for their services during 1920, according to information given the finance committee by Ald. Wallace, the following:

Frank H. Mesce ..... $ 400,761.49
Austin J. Lynch ..... 574,381.46

Total ..... $1,065,082.95

But that is only half, in Faherty's opinion. These two experts will get another $1,000,000. Faherty should know. He is head of the board having in charge the improvements on which the experts have been employed. He is in a position to make an accurate guess and has a good reputation for veracity in interviews.

Lynch Claims Large Staff.

Mr. Lynch sought to justify his bills by explaining that he employed a large staff—at one time more than 100.

Mr. Faherty was asked whether he had checked up on this staff. "I don't know what kind of a staff either of them had, and don't care. I've never been in their office in my life. They did the work. What more should any one ask?"

"Before these improvements are completed they will earn and collect another million."

This indicates that the work of these two experts, in the opinion of Mr. Faherty, is only about half completed. They were employed in connection with the extension, widening, repaving, or tunneling of Ogden, Western, and Ashland avenues, Robey and South Water streets.

Services in Two Parts.

Their services might be divided into two parts. They were hired to appraise buildings which the city must acquire to make the improvements. For that they are paid a percentage of the value of the structures appraised. In addition they are to testify in court. For that work they are to receive $50 a day.

The council finance committee, which undertook an inquiry into certain phases of the subject, is still in the dark regarding the particular appraisals from which the experts have been paid. The committee asked the controller Wednesday for the amounts paid each expert, the funds from which they were paid, and also that he submit the original vouchers for each payment.

Information Is Delayed.

That information had not been transmitted to the committee at 10 o'clock last night when the committee adjourned for the day. Controller Harding was called to a hospital and this probably delayed the delivery of the data. The reason for the request was the statement of Ald. Wallace that he could find appropriations for only $200,000 from which the bills of the experts should have been paid. He referred to appropriations labeled "For the services of building experts." There were several blanket appropriations "for such other expenditures in connection with this improvement as may be ordered by the city council."

It was understood yesterday that certain bills of the experts, at least, had been charged to those accounts. Members of the finance committee, however, declined to comment. They explained they desired to wait the official statement of the city controller, who might have some information of which the members had not even a private hint.

Means $2,000,000 Out of Bond Issue.

DEFENDS PACT TO SHIELD TRADE OF GREAT BRITAIN

P. A. Franklin Is Before Shipping Board.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—President P. A. S. Franklin of the International Mercantile Marine company today defended the company's policy of the twenty year agreement, concluded in 1902, with the British government that the company would "pursue no policy injurious to the interests of the British mercantile marine or of British trade."

Urges Water Certificate Issue.

City Engineer Combs urged before the committee the issuance of $1,000,000 in water certificates to extend the municipal water system. The committee was told these certificates must be counted in the city's debt limitation prescribed by the constitution.

"If you issue these certificates," said Ald. Fisher, "you will thereby decrease by that much the amount of money which can be spent on the street improvements from the bonds which the people have authorized."

Incidentally, water certificates can be issued without consulting the voters. The aldermen were unable to decide whether the city has the unused borrowing power to permit an $8,000,000 issue for current expenses and $1,000,000 of water certificates.

CHICAGOANS AT WASHINGTON FOR FORESTRY BILL

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—(Special.)—Urging the replanting of cut-over forests and the elimination of lumber waste, a delegation from the Union League club of Chicago today gave strong support before the house agricultural committee to the Snell forestry bill to establish a national forestry policy.

"I come from a section and a state that consumes more lumber, I think, than any other like area and from a section that produces little or no lumber, but has within its confines acres on acres that are not fit for any other purpose than for forestry," said David L. Goodwillie, representing the Union League club and the National Association of Box Manufacturers.

"We know the immediate needs of an increased timber supply. In Chicago we are studying forestry seriously, hoping to enlighten and educate our people in the central west on the subject and show them the importance of state cooperation and immediate action."

BARS PIN HOPE ON CROOKED DRY AID; WEEP FOR $5,000

Bogus Sleuth Captured as Four Raise Wail.

A protean personality imposed upon trusting saloonkeepers caused the arrest yesterday of Edward Hoff, 2351 Warner avenue, by United States Deputy Marshal Thomas Sheehan. A. P. Madden, chief of the intelligence bureau, said Hoff obtained more than $5,000.

One of his alleged victims was Joseph Kopacz, saloonkeeper at 2216 Clybourn avenue. Kopacz said Hoff represented himself as a prohibition agent and contracted to sell him $1,400 worth of alcohol. The day delivery was to be made two men in an automobile met Kopacz, robbed him of the $1,400, and tossed him out of the car. But he still trusted Hoff, he said. So when several gallons of whiskey were confiscated in his basement in a government raid he paid him $200 to return it. Hoff never came back, he said.

WASHINGTON NEWS

—IN BRIEF—

LET A STAFF CORRESPONDENT. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 27.

That the textile manufacturers should be required to keep wages up to recent levels if they receive additional protection by increased duties was demanded by John Golden, representing the organized textile workers, before the house ways and means committee. Republican senators began the circulation of a petition to invoke cloture to force action in the senate on the emergency tariff bill applying to agricultural products.

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States through Clyde Dawson of Denver, one of their number, announced their opposition to the packers' bill and the Calder bill for the regulation of the coal industry. It was asserted that the bills mean an abandonment of the principle that a government of laws and not of men.

The United States either should enter upon a naval holiday agreement with Great Britain and Japan or it should make sure that it is building a thoroughly efficient and modern navy, Senator Borah told the senate today.

Another steel strike, greater than the strike of 1915, will break out within the next few years unless congress takes preventive measures, according to members of the interchurch commission who testified today before the senate labor committee.

A delegation from the Union League club of Chicago urged the replanting of cut-over forests and the elimination of lumber waste in testimony today before the agricultural committee of the house on the principle that a government of laws and not of men.

The allied supreme council's action in approving recognition of Latvia and Estonia was pronounced by the administration a rejection of President Wilson's appeal to the powers to enter into a "solemn engagement" to preserve the territorial integrity of Russia.

Capt. Streeter to Rest in Graceland, Not "Deestrick"

Capt. Streeter will not be buried in his beloved "deestrick." His remains will be interred in Graceland cemetery. This was decided last night at a meeting of the interchurch commission. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 o'clock at Grace Methodist church. The church will be opened at 11 a. m. and the body will lie in state.

RECOGNITION OF BALTIC STATES

Considered Direct Rebuff at Russia Note.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—(Special.)—The allied supreme council's decision to recognize the Baltic states of Estonia and Latvia, despite President Wilson's appeals for the preservation of the territorial integrity of Russia, was received by the administration today like a blow between the eyes.

At the state department there was a complete break between the president and the cabinet. The president, who regretfully was pronounced wholly at variance with the cabinet's recent note to Paul Hymans, president of the league of nations assembly, urging the powers to enter into a "solemn engagement" to "take advantage of Russia's stricken condition."

Completes Parting of Ways.
The secretary of state's Russian note last year, the president specifically censured the separation of Latvia and Estonia as a violation of Russian territorial integrity, for which reason he had withheld American recognition of the two republics, much to the chagrin of many champions of his principle of self-determination.

Administration officials fear that the action by the supreme council foreshadowed a complete break between the president and the allied powers on the Russian question and indicates that his arguments, particularly in the recent past, have met with a cool reception. They are prepared for a reply little short of a rebuff, if any reply at all is forthcoming.

More Justice in Japan's Stand.
It is also contended that, while the allies are encouraging the dismemberment of European Russia and drink continually farther away from the law, hoping thereby both to ingratiate their own commercial and political interests in the Baltic and to make Russia weaker when she throws off the yoke of bolshevism than she has been in centuries, a color of right would be given to Japan to promote the severance of all political ties between eastern Siberia and western Russia by participating in the creation of an independent Siberian state.

While even the Japanese government understood to doubt the feasibility of following such a policy at the present time, it is asserted that the allies in their dismembering European Russia from Russia tend to encourage the ambitions of Japan, as a recovered Asia would attempt first to get back its western territories detached from it before undertaking an expensive and protracted campaign in Siberia against a well equipped foe, and where the enemy possessed all the advantages.

Creating Pretexts for War?
Some diplomats here affirm that instead of promoting the cause of peace in Europe, the allied powers are multiplying the pretexts for war, especially with Russia, and because of these very reasons England sees the necessity of meeting the Anglo-Japanese alliance and paying for Japan's support out of Russia's rights in Manchuria.

The contention that the allies are recognizing two republics already recognized by the Russian soviet government, which made peace with them, although capable of crushing them, is pronounced by the administration as a specious denial of violation of Russian territorial integrity. British news added the Letts and Estonians gain their independence, it is pointed out, and moreover, the bolsheviks, when the president pronounced the recognition of the two republics, betrayed Russia in recognizing this territory.

ITALIAN JOBLESS FORM REPUBLIC IN PARMA REGION

MILAN, Jan. 27.—Hostilities between the Fascists and the Reds are continuing in various places and bloodshed has been reported today from Parma, near Florence, where two of them seriously wounded were said to be dying. At Florence the plant of the bolshevik newspaper, Di Fesa, was burned by the Fascists.

It is reported tonight that a large number of unemployed men have banded together and proclaimed a republic in Pontevivo, near Parma. The report says that all wires leading from the place have been cut and troops are dispatched for the scene in motor trucks from Trieste tonight.

Dakotan Offers Bill to "Better Morals."

Pierre, S. D., Jan. 27.—For those of South Dakota who hunger and thirst after virtuous righteousness, tidings of great joy are conveyed in a bill introduced today in the lower house by Representative Ohman of Beadle county. It would not only standardize citizenship, but would regenerate John Barleycorn into a gentleman worthy to grace the back bar of any soda fountain. Mr. Ohman states that the measure, as introduced, is appropriate legislation for concurrent action by congress.

A man must measure up to a prescribed code of conduct before qualifying to possess more than one-half of 1 per cent of alcoholic content. The bill defines this kind of a man as a moral citizen, one "who has not been convicted by a jury of drunkenness, lying, dead beating, bribery, cheating, loafing, or destruction of family."

Virtue Its Own Reward.
The moral citizen shall be allowed to vote, and to buy, sell, or manufacture what the bill describes as stimulants. It differentiates stimulants and intoxicants. Stimulants "shall be non-poisonous wine, whiskey, brandy, or beer made from some fruit or grains." Intoxicants "shall be any poisonous or impure liquor, such as moonshine, poisonous home brew, or immature wines."

Away with Wickedness.
The bill's title states that its purpose is to strengthen prohibition, to prevent the saloons coming back, to eliminate the bootlegger, needless expense and crime, and to preserve religious and personal liberty by a better moral form of temperance law.

Further, it would "reward the righteous by management in the civil service and eliminate the unrighteous as citizens and public officials."

Mr. Ohman explained that the measure is introduced as appropriate legislation for concurrent action by congress.

New Chinese Minister to Leave for U. S. Feb. 15
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
LONDON, Jan. 27.—Alfred Soe-ke Sze, the new Chinese minister to the United States, will leave London, Feb. 15, to take up his duties in Washington.

Mr. Sze, who was Chinese minister to the court of St. James from 1914 until he was relieved recently by Dr. Wellington Koo, received his higher education in America. He prepared for college in Washington, D. C., and received a degree of M. A. at Cornell university in 1902.

Plan Dental Aid

MAYOR THOMPSON handed diplomas to 750 women graduates of the health department school of home and public nursing last night, bringing the total number of graduates, available to fight disease epidemics, up to 5,902. Eight classes of women have been graduated from the school in sixteen months. Bishop Samuel Fallows presided at the graduation exercises, held at the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium. Health Commissioner Robertson announced that ten dental chairs will be installed at once at the nurses' school, 300 North Ada street, and that, under the supervision of a dentist, ten nurses will inspect the mouths of school children, clean their teeth, and give advice on the care of mouths and teeth.

"With the nurses taking care of the preparatory work, the school dentist will be able to do a surprising amount of work on the mouths of children too poor to pay a dentist," he said.

The ninth course in home nursing will open next Monday. More than 350 applications are on file. The school can accommodate 1,000 women. First come, first served is the rule.

GERMANS CHEER FOR KAISER ON HIS BIRTHDAY

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
BERLIN, Jan. 27.—"Hoch der Kaiser!" resounded in many parts of Germany today, when hundreds of thousands of followers of the former emperor celebrated his sixty-second birthday anniversary. Royalist parties sang publicly the praises of their exiled leader.

Tumultuous scenes occurred during the meeting of the Breslau official chamber of commerce, when two Socialists refused to participate in the cheering.

One remarkable manifestation of the Kaiser's returning popularity is the fact that more than 200,000 persons, mostly Prussians, sent birthday greetings to him through a small newspaper, the Reichsbote, which collected letters and postcards and had them bound into books and presented to the former ruler.

HIGH WEDDING HURRIED; TO GO TO SOUTH AFRICA

Chicago Girl's Parents En Route to London.

News, announced last night, that Miss Gladys High is to be married in London as soon as her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Henry High, 1244 Lake Shore drive, can be present for the ceremony, will be a surprise to her acquaintances in society here, who had expected the marriage would take place in Chicago next summer.

The change in plans which brought about the decision for a quick marriage is said to have resulted from a British admiralty order to her fiancé, Lieutenant Commander Charles Dennistown Burney, to go to Rhodesia, British South Africa. The young couple are to live, at least for a time, in Rhodesia.

Mr. and Mrs. High are now in New York and will sail for London on Saturday. Lieutenant Commander Burney is the only son of Sir Cecil Burney, famous naval commander, who was appointed commander of the Jutland fleet as successor to Admiral Jellicoe when the latter was made naval war lord.

The romance of international interest started when Miss High met her fiancé in London, where she went last October to act as bridesmaid at the marriage of her cousin, Miss Roberta Mitchell, to Lord Osoyulston, heir to the earldom of Tankerville. Miss High's engagement was announced last week. She has been prominent in north side and Lake Forest circles and is an ex-president of the Junior league.

BERNARD BARUCH GETS D. S. MEDAL FOR WAR WORK

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—(Special.)—Secretary Baker today announced that President Wilson had awarded a distinguished service medal to Bernard M. Baruch for his services in connection with the world war.

The citation set forth that his supervision of production of war supplies was of great value both to the army and the civilian population.

TWO GIRLS GONE; PARENTS SUSPECT TWIN ELOPEMENTS

Miss Ruth Moss, 17 years old, 3321 West Monroe street, and Miss Burns

Jeffrey, 16, of 3005 Colorado avenue, who disappeared last Monday, are believed by their parents to have eloped with two boys of the neighborhood. The girls were seen for Montgomery Ward & Co.

Harry Jeffrey, a barber, father of Burns, told the Fillmore street police last night he had received an anonymous telephone call from a woman, who said his daughter had married a man named Swanson and was living on the north side.

George Harrington, 4231 West Monroe street, told the mother of the Moss girl he had seen both girls leaving the Van Buren palace, a dance hall at Madison street and California avenue, Wednesday night.

Miss Moss is 5 feet 5 inches tall, weighs 115 pounds, and has blonde hair. She wore a red and black straw hat, a light blue dress, and a brown coat.

BOLIVIANS REBEL AGAINST RULE OF NEW PRESIDENT

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 27.—Dispatches received here tonight from Santiago, Chile, state that a revolution has been set in motion at Oruro, Bolivia, whose object is the overthrow of the Saavedra government. A close censorship has been established, the dispatches say.

Bautista Saavedra was elected president of Bolivia last Wednesday by the national convention after a deadlock of several months.

VETERANS CHASE NONPARTISANS FROM NEBRASKA

Nelson, Neb., Jan. 27.—A citizens' committee, in which ex-service men were prominent, today waited on Non-partisan league organizers and asked them to leave Nuckolls county and stay away. The organizers complied and four of the five league workers drove away in the automobiles. No disorder accompanied the notice served on the league, although nearly a hundred people gathered at the hotel to witness their departure.

"Mob," Lawyer Says.
Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 27.—C. A. Sorenson, attorney for the Nonpartisan league, said tonight his advice from Nelson were that the league organizers had been driven from that town by threats and intimidation. He said he intended to bring suit in federal court for damages from the men who constituted what he designated a "mob."

HOTEL IN LOOP CLOSED 2 HOURS IN SMOKE FIGHT

Only one "smoker" was caught in Health Commissioner Robertson's anti-smoke net yesterday. The heating plant of the Grace hotel, 75 West Jackson boulevard, was shut down for nearly two hours at the commissioner's order following a violation of the smoke ordinance.

Apparently loop smokers took heed, Dr. Robertson said. "However, there will be no letup in the campaign."

Among the buildings served with final warnings that further violations will result in shutdown orders were the Webster building, Union League club, Old Colony building, Mentor building, Palmer house, and the Webster apartments, 491-499 North Clark street.

ALMOST A BRIDE IN 1919, SHE IS ENGAGED AGAIN

Miss Ann Andrews, former North-western university student and war worker with the British shipping board, whose marriage to Edward Warfield Brown Jr. of Jacksonville, Ill., was halted at the eleventh hour on June 7, 1919, is to marry Elms Thaxton Knowlson of Detroit.

This was announced yesterday. Miss Andrews is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Knowlson of Detroit.

TAKE PARTNER OF EX-PASTOR ON $216,000 THEFT

Mount Vernon, Ill., Jan. 27.—Loren Williamson, business partner in a garage business with Guy Kyle, former preacher, who has confessed complicity in the $216,000 mail theft here Jan. 14, was arrested shortly before noon today in connection with the robbery. Williamson has denied participation in it. Kyle, who is being held in default of $25,000 bail, is said to have implicated Williamson in the robbery.

GERMANY ANGRY AT ATTEMPT TO JAIL BERGDOLL

Berlin May Protest to Washington.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 27.—(Special.)—The Public Ledger has received the following cablegram from Grover Bergdoll: "BERGACH, Baden, Jan. 27.—We captured six department of justice agents and threw them into prison. We are safe and sound. "BERGDOLL."

BY GEORGE SELDES.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.)

BERLIN, Jan. 27.—The attempt at kidnapping Grover Cleveland Bergdoll in Germany has become an international incident. The Baden government, through Minister of the Interior Kemmele, has sent a protest to the Berlin foreign office requesting the government to demand satisfaction from Washington.

Minister Kemmele, in addressing the Baden legislature, vehemently condemned the participants and declared "the Ebersbach affair shows the world Germany's impotence and what foreign countries dare to do to the German people without Germany having a chance to obtain reparations."

Detectives Had Credentials.
The American detectives, Neaf of Baltimore and Zimmer of Denver, carried credentials of the German police at Coblenz. It was learned today that Bergdoll and Eugene Stecher, his chauffeur, both of Philadelphia, became German citizens recently.

Since October Bergdoll has been living with his cousin, Robert Freudenberger. It was Freudenberger who jumped on the runningboard of the American detective's automobile and put on the brakes and after a battle arrested the Americans.

Stecher Born in Baden.
Stecher, with whom Bergdoll escaped from America, was born in Baden in 1887 and served twelve years in the United States army before deserting last July and returning to Germany. Bergdoll had an easy time becoming a German citizen, because he had refused to fight against Germany.

The accused detectives face long imprisonment, because abduction is a serious charge in Baden. A man is attempted murder also is likely.

WILL NOT RUSH JAPAN TREATY, PHELAN ASSURED

Colby Says Arguments Will Be Heard.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—Assurances that the state department would not give its approval to the proposed new treaty between the United States and Japan until opportunity had been afforded members of the senate and others interested to place before the department their arguments were given Secretary Phelan of California today by Senator Colby.

Senator Phelan called at the state department to obtain information on the report submitted by Roland S. Morris, American ambassador to Japan, with respect to his negotiations with Baron Shidehara, the Japanese ambassador here. Secretary Colby explained to the California senator that he had not as yet read the report.

Action Not to Be Hasty.
Senator Phelan after his conference with Secretary Colby also had assured him that no hasty action was contemplated. Senator Phelan added that he insisted a full opportunity had not been given to senators interested in the Japanese question to express their opinions, although he and Senator Johnson of California had discussed it a few times with Ambassador Morris, but prior to the drafting of the report. The California senator explained that some fear had been felt by him and others that, on account of the short time remaining of this session of congress, the matter might be forced through without further consideration. Secretary Colby, he said, promised to confer with him again in two or three days after reading the report.

Shidehara Calls on Colby.
Ambassador Shidehara also called at the state department during the day, but it was explained that his visit had been made to submit certain reports of a Japanese ship recently at Norfolk. They were wanted as witnesses in a case of alleged violation of the prohibition law, and Ambassador Shidehara told the department the ship was now under way to Honolulu.

He also informed the department that he had received no further information from his government relative to the Lansing incident.

Borah Calls for Rest.
The United States either should enter a naval building agreement with Great Britain or Japan or it should make sure that it is building a thoroughly efficient and modern navy, Senator Borah of Idaho declared in a speech in the senate today.

He told the senate that America should proceed with great care in building a new navy, and that the $400,000,000 to be spent on sixteen new capital ships be utterly wasted, quoting British naval experts to the effect that capital ships were virtually obsolete, the submarine and air supremacy being the chief essentials of a modern navy.

He stated that some American naval officials shared this opinion, but they did not feel like precipitating a controversy by airing their views.

"If congress does not demonstrate to the voters of this country that we have in good faith endeavored to secure partial disarmament they will send a congress here that will cut these appropriations regardless of consequences," he said.

To Amend California Law?
Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 27.—Equal civil rights with the nationals of any other nation, except as to citizenship and naturalization, are to be granted to Japanese in an amendment to the existing commercial treaty between the United States and Japan, according to a preliminary agreement reached by Ambassador Shidehara of Japan, and Ambassador Morris of the United States, says a dispatch from Washington.

A revision of the "gentlemen's agreement" to conform and also absolutely to prohibit Japanese immigration to America and the Hawaiian islands while admitting it to the Philippine islands, also has been agreed upon, the dispatch says.

New Mexico Senate Enacts Barrier.
Santa Fe, N. M., Jan. 27.—The state senate today unanimously passed the Reinburg resolution for a constitutional prohibition against the purchase or leasing of lands by aliens ineligible to citizenship.

Favors Exclusion in Idaho.
Boise, Idaho, Jan. 27.—A resolution favoring prohibition of immigration of Japanese passed the lower house today by a vote of 25 to 15.

OUT OF QUARANTINE, BUT—

These Northwestern co-eds are still barred from theaters, dances, and crowds, although the scarlet fever quarantine on their dormitory was lifted yesterday. Their first move was to rush to a soda fountain. Left to right—Lucille Warner, Dorothy Bingham, Peggy Fowler, Lauretta Roth, Naomi Levoy, Lillian Bollenbach, and Catherine Mann.

Action Not to Be Hasty.
THIRTY pretty co-eds at Northwestern university were notified yesterday that the scarlet fever quarantine on their dormitory at 1921 Sherman avenue, Evanston, has been lifted.

"Three cheers for Dr. Roome!" they cried as Dr. C. T. Roome, Evanston's health commissioner, brought the glad tidings.

"The quarantine is lifted and you may take your semester examinations over on the campus," explained the commissioner. "But you must not go to theaters, attend dances, or mingle with the crowds down in Fountain square, and you may buy only such things in Evanston shops as are necessary for your wellbeing."

At once twenty-eight of the girls darted down to Davis street to indulge in their first treat of chocolates and ice cream for two days.

Miss Lauretta Roth and Miss Catherine Mann had taken the precaution to lay in a private stock of sweets.

The Reds had intended to attack Galicia and invade the region in contact with Czechoslovakia and Hungary, where they were assured support from the Communists.

Route Well Planned.
The line of advance was to have been through the region populated by the Ukrainians, who are the mortal enemies of the Poles. Although Mr. Casana sent duplicates of his dispatches by registered mail, all were opened and marked "Censored by Take Jonescu."

M. Jontescu is regarded in some Roumanian quarters as a French tool and it is believed that the people will not consent to pledging themselves to fight the bolshevists in behalf of France or Poland.

Railroad Men Offer to Move Wheat for Hoover.
Cleveland, O., Jan. 27.—Engine and train crews to move 50,000,000 bushels of wheat to be donated by west, the chief executives of the big railroad brotherhoods, without charge for the men's labor, to Herbert Hoover, in charge of relieving starvation among the hungry millions of Europe and China.

Wade in Water Knee Deep.
Half the Alabama state fair grounds, where the ceremony was held, was knee deep in water. The candidates, however, were not permitted to pick dry spots, but were forced to splash forward to the strains of waltz music.

The initiates took the oath about the fiery emblem of the order, on the inside of a great quadrangle formed by hordes of white robed, hooded figures. The outer walls of the great square were guarded by Klansmen in white.

Klansmen Take Oath.
The Klansmen, shrouded in white, formed the living cross in the center of the race track; each held a cross aloft, the standard being white and the cross-arm red.

This was the first time in history the public has been permitted to witness a Ku-Klux Klan convocation, even from a distance. Newspaper men were permitted to stand on a house-top inside the fair grounds inclosure, with guards on all sides to see that they kept the places assigned to them. The public had to be content with a more distant view.

What Order Stands For.
W. J. Simmons of Atlanta, imperial wizard, in a statement to newspaper men, said the new order stood for "One hundred per cent Americanism and reconsecration to bedrock principles."

"White supremacy."
"To keep forever separate church and state."
"To protect woman's honor and the sanctity of the home."

Mr. Simmons cited the following figures on the membership of the Ku-Klux Klan:

The order has 30,000 members above the Mason and Dixon line; it has 7,000 in Chicago. Seven hundred inquiries have been received from Los Angeles regarding the organization of a Klan on the Pacific coast. A middle west domain office is to be established either in Chicago or Cincinnati.

ROUMANIA AND POLAND UNITED AS REDS' FOES

Prepared to Resist Russian Offensive.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]
PARIS, Jan. 27.—Roumania and Poland have concluded a military alliance for their protection in case of a bolshevist attack on Bessarabia or Bukovina.

This news was conveyed to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S Paris headquarters by the Bucharest correspondent, Constantin Cazana, through a mailed duplicate of a wireless telegraph message that had been canceled on orders of Take Jonescu.

Gen. Haller, who commanded the Polish-American troops in France and who is now commander of the Polish army in Galicia, during his recent visit to Bucharest concluded a military accord after inspecting the Roumanian defensive positions along the Danester river.

Troops Ready for Reds.
M. Rascano, the Roumanian minister of war, who has just returned from the Bessarabian frontier, reports that the troops are prepared to resist a Red offensive.

It is now believed that the bolshevists have abandoned their project of attacking the Roumanians through the disclosure of their secret plans for operations to Bucharest.

The Reds had intended to attack Galicia and invade the region in contact with Czechoslovakia and Hungary, where they were assured support from the Communists.

Route Well Planned.

LABOR PRESENTS ITS DEMANDS TO GREAT BRITAIN

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
LONDON, Jan. 27.—Eight hundred trade union delegates met in London today to consider the unemployment problems. They approved the Labor party program, which includes government work or maintenance for all; prohibition of overtime in the various crafts; road building and other public works; reduction in military commitments, and peace with Russia.

A committee was appointed to present these demands to the government and the convention adjourned until Feb. 23, when it was said a strike may be considered if the government fails to act.

Responsible leaders, including J. H. Thomas, Frank Hodges, Ben Turner, and Thomas Shaw, declared against a strike, as it would only aggravate the conditions causing unemployment.

MRS. DE KORWIN WINS DIVORCE FROM EX-BARON

Gets Child, Too, Without Making Settlement.

An international romance that resulted in the marriage in 1911 of Mrs. Cecile Young Hayworth and Baron Joseph de Korwin, Polish nobleman, ended yesterday in the divorce court of Judge Harry A. Lewis.

Five minutes' testimony by Mrs. de Korwin, daughter of the late Otto Young and heiress of his millions, won her the promise of a decree and the custody of her son, Stanislaus Stephen, 7 years old.

The baron, or, as he has asked to be called, Mr. de Korwin, did not contest the suit. His counsel, Attorney E. B. Mayer, interrupted Mrs. de Korwin's testimony only once, and that was to ask if she would report on the boy's welfare at frequent intervals. She replied with an emphatic affirmative.

Desertion Is Basis of Suit.
Desertion was the charge on which the decree was granted.

"My husband and I quarreled over money matters during the latter part of July, 1914, while we were living in Paris, France. We couldn't agree, and he left me, never to return to my home," Mrs. de Korwin testified.

"Did he support you or the boy?" Judge Lewis asked.

"He did not," she replied, with a laugh.

Attorneys for Mrs. de Korwin had contended the baron was seeking only money, and that she had supported him for years. Yesterday Attorney A. S. Trude denied any money settlement had accompanied the divorce. "De Korwin asked nothing and he got nothing," he said.

Asks for Maiden Name.
Mrs. de Korwin asked the court to grant her the right to use her maiden name.

Attorneys for both De Korwin will appear before Judge McKinley today and ask the dismissal of a writ of habeas corpus the baron filed in an effort to obtain the custody of his boy.

HARDING FARMY IN AT 150,000

Anthony Brings Word from

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—President Harding in the annual bill for a regular session of the House of Representatives, chairman of the committee on appropriations, submitted the measure, which would increase the number of members of the House from 350 to 400.

The proposed increase would increase the number of members of the House from 350 to 400, and would also increase the number of members of the Senate from 100 to 110.

Mr. Harding said, at a press conference, that he believed the increase in the number of members of the House was necessary to better represent the people.

Mr. Harding also said that he believed the increase in the number of members of the Senate was necessary to better represent the states.

HARDING FIXES ARMY IN PEACE AT 150,000 MEN

Anthony Brings Congress
Word from Marion.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—[By the Associated Press.]—Provision has been made in the annual army appropriations bill for a regular army of only 150,000 men, the suggestion of President Harding, Representative Anthony C. Bonomi, chairman of the house appropriations subcommittee, which reported the measure, said tonight, accompanying the bill was ready to be reported to the house.

The proposed army of 150,000 men, of the present regular army of about 213,000 men, and the regular army of 175,000 men fixed in a resolution recently adopted by the house and senate, was suggested by Mr. Harding as a proper maximum, Mr. Anthony said, at the recent conference which he held with the president at Marion.

Considers Other Available Forces. Mr. Harding, according to Mr. Anthony, expressed the belief that a regular army of 150,000 men, together with the reserves, national guard, and other available forces, should provide sufficient military establishment for the nation in time of peace.

The army appropriation bill, which will be submitted to the house tomorrow, carries total appropriations of $1,125,000,000, a reduction of $2,000,000 from the appropriation for the present year and a cut of more than half the estimates amounting to $590,000,000 submitted by the war department.

Army Living "Too High." Mr. Harding said, in no way connected with disarmament discussions, he resulted from the conviction of committee members that "the army has been living too high."

The subcommittee went over the measure today making final revisions, and the result was an estimate of $1,125,000,000 from the total of $1,127,000,000 which the committee reported last night.

WANTS MIGHTY NAVY. New York, Jan. 27.—[Special.]—In a message published in the current issue of Our Navy, a service publication, President Harding refers to the proposed disarmament and suspension of naval building programs.

Mr. Harding also pays tribute to the work of the allied fleets during the war, and sees the guarantee of peace for the United States in the way its first line of defense.

Navy America's Wall. "The navy is the great wall of America," he writes. "I believe that navy that is almost good in the way it proves more costly to the enemy of the United States than to us at all. More and more wars are won on the seas."

"We have learned that in the great war, where so much attention was given to the land fighting, the key to victory during the entire course of the conflict was found in the naval power of the allies."

Navy Protects Home Shores. "It is the navy that guarantees us against invasion. It is the navy that guarantees us the ability to send our ships overseas, if the need ever comes. We want no navy for conquest. We would all like to reduce armaments, but so long as there is need for American national defense, we must maintain our navy, not only in its material strength but in the morale and capacity of its officers and men."

PADEWSKI TO MAKE U. S. HOME. HIS STEPSON SAYS. New York, Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Ignace Jan Paderewski, pianist, who became premier of Poland, will return to the United States early in February and may stay in this country permanently, according to W. O. Gorski, his nephew.

Mr. Paderewski, who is now on his estate in Switzerland, will sail from Genoa Feb. 6 on La France.

THE TRIANGLE TRIAL

Left to right—Herbert Konkright, on trial before Judge Hugo Friend for the slaying of Mrs. Eva Wyatt of Aurora in triangle love tragedy, whose love letters, found in an attic, were resurrected to accuse him yesterday; Mrs. Eva Wyatt, his victim, and her husband, Albert Wyatt, who demands the gallows for Konkright. Mrs. Wyatt was slain in a Chicago rooming house, to which she had gone to keep a rendezvous with Konkright.

CONKRIGHT BALKS AT RE-ENACTING WOMAN'S DEATH

Accident, His Plea; Cowers at Gun.

Admitting authorship of the "Dear Mamma" love letters used against him by Assistant State's Attorney William Scott Stewart in Judge Hugo Friend's court, where he is on trial charged with the murder of Mrs. Eva Wyatt of Aurora, Herbert Konkright took the witness stand yesterday afternoon in his own behalf.

He insisted the shooting of Mrs. Wyatt, whom he had wooed away from her husband, Albert Wyatt, of 244 North May street, Aurora, was an accident.

There was a dramatic moment when Prosecutor Stewart, cross-examining Konkright regarding the circumstances of the shooting, which took place in a rooming house at 12 East Walton place on Nov. 4, 1920, handed him the automatic pistol figuring in the tragedy, and asked him to show the jury how the "accident" occurred.

His Jealousy Is Motive. Prosecutor Stewart introduced witnesses to show Konkright was jealous of the woman, had threatened to throw her into the Fox river, and had threatened her husband.

Mrs. Nellie Owen of Batavia, Ill., testified she was with Mrs. Wyatt on one occasion when Konkright appeared. "Mrs. Wyatt refused to leave her friends and go with him, and he tried to throw her into the Fox river from the bridge on which we were standing," she testified.

Several members of the Wyatt family testified Konkright posed to them as a detective and once, referring to Mrs. Wyatt's husband, said, "I'll get you."

Verdict Expected Tonight. Testimony ended in the evening and Prosecutor Stewart started his closing argument.

"This is a case of murder," he said. "If it was an accident, this defendant should have shown you men how it happened."

The argument had not progressed far when court adjourned until today. A verdict is expected by tonight.

HOUSEBOAT TRIP PUTS NEW ZEST INTO HARDING

Stops for a Day at Palm Beach.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Palm Beach, Fla., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—After five days on the houseboat Victoria, sailing lazily down the sunny stretches of Indian river, President Eliot Harding, on his arrival at Palm Beach today, showed remarkable recovery in health and spirits. The nervously worn man, who left his conference room in Marion a week ago in so tanned and smiling.

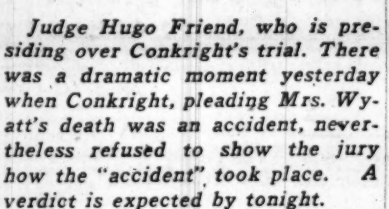

The trip has done the entire party good. Senator A. B. Cummings, who was taken on board at Daytona, in poor health, seems a new man.

Mr. Harding and party had luncheon at the home here of Joseph Ritter and later went to the country club for golf. They were met by J. Leonard Replogle, Pittsburgh steel man, and a delegation from the Miami chamber of commerce, headed by Winfield J. Durbin, former governor of Indiana. They will leave at dawn for Miami, where Mr. Harding will remain several days golfing and fishing. He will return to St. Augustine by Feb. 7 for renewed conferences.

Senator Medill McCormick of Illinois had a chat with Mr. Harding on conditions in several European countries which he recently visited and on tariff and disarmament sentiment.

The presence on board the houseboat of Senator A. B. Fall has led to the next secretary of the interior. This is one of the positions that Mr. Harding has not filled even tentatively with any other name.

Mr. Harding has not indicated his wishes publicly, but the houseboat gossip is that the special session of congress will be called for March 28 and that the senate will probably be in continuous session considering the Harding appointments.

Judge Hugo Friend, who is presiding over Konkright's trial. There was a dramatic moment yesterday when Konkright, pleading Mrs. Wyatt's death was an accident, nevertheless refused to show the jury how the "accident" took place. A verdict is expected by tonight.

were sprung as a surprise. Mr. Stewart found them only recently in a tool chest in the attic of the Wyatt home.

Defies the World. A letter dated Chicago, Sept. 7, 1919, reads:

"Dear Mamma: I shall endeavor to write you a few loving lines this evening, dear, hoping this will find you well and happy."

"I am coming out some evening, for I want to see you and talk with you, dear, and it don't make any difference whether you folks like it or not, or any other else. I am coming when I feel like it from now on, dear, and the first one who says a word will have me to deal with, not you."

"With all my love and kisses for you, dear, until I see you, with hopes of it soon, mamma, dear, bye-bye, dear."

CORK'S MAYOR VANISHES FROM SIGHT OF FRIENDS

New York, Jan. 27.—Donal O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, whose status in this country was that of a seaman awaiting a chance to reship from some American port, has dropped out of sight. His last public appearance was on Tuesday, when he addressed the executive committee of the American Committee for Relief in Ireland here.

At headquarters of Harry Boland, secretary to Eamonn de Valera, "president of the Irish republic," it was said today O'Callaghan's movements were not known. The hotel at which he had been staying reported that he departed "several days ago." L. Hollingsworth Wood, chairman of the Committee of One Hundred investigating the Irish question, said he knew nothing of O'Callaghan's plans.

BELFAST, Jan. 27.—Michael Garvey, an ardent Sinn Féiner, was killed while in bed here this morning. The crime is believed to have been in revenge for the shooting of three policemen, who were to have been important witnesses at a military inquiry, in the bedroom of a hotel near the local police headquarters last night.

The Rev. J. A. Irwin, the Presbyterian minister who spoke in the United States with Eamonn de Valera during the latter's recent stay in this country.

DE VALERA WILL RETURN TO U. S., LONDON HEARS

Paris Report Has Him
Flying to Glasgow.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] [Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.] LONDON, Jan. 27.—It was reported today in Irish circles here that Eamonn de Valera, "president of the Irish republic," will go from France to America. It is said he has accomplished his task in Ireland, which was of that country, especially with a view of peace proposals now before the Irish people. It is not considered likely he will see Mr. Lloyd George in Paris, although this is not impossible. It is reported that Lord Dunsany, poet and playwright, who was arrested a few days ago when some old ammunition was found in his castle in County Meath, and later released, was re-arrested last night and taken to some destination not made public.

COURT MARTIAL EIGHT

BY JOHN LESTER.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] [Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.] DUBLIN, Jan. 27.—Eight men arrested on the way to London to act as escort for the body of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork when it was being brought to Ireland from a London prison, were court martialed here today. They are charged with wearing Irish volunteer uniforms under their regular civilian garments. The authorities do not know the names of the eight men, as they refuse to give them or recognize the court.

Claims for compensation for the destruction of property in Tipperary town by the British in reprisals amount to 220,000 pounds.

DE VALERA AT TOURS.

PARIS, Jan. 27.—Eamonn de Valera, whose presence in France had been rumored recently, has been found at Tours, central France, according to a correspondent of the newspaper L'Ouvrier. The journalist quotes the "Irish republican" leader as declaring he proposed to travel back from Tours by airplane with the intention of landing on Scotch territory in the vicinity of Glasgow.

Peace offers by Premier Lloyd George which have been reported by the press were said by De Valera to be of little value.

"What Mr. Lloyd George says today he will not say tomorrow, if it suits his policy," he is quoted as declaring.

Bird of Freedom May Scream Again—Free Seeds!

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—The house confirmed today, 169 to 149, its action in voting $500,000 for distribution of free seeds by members. A motion to rescind the amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill was defeated.

CHICAGO YOUTH PUT ON STAFF OF HARVARD PAPER

Francis Beidler Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Beidler, 4736 Drexel boulevard, has been elected literary editor of the Harvard Advocate. In his freshman year young Beidler was made a director of the Harvard Lampoon; in his junior year he, with nine other students, joined the Memorial society. He is a member of the Association Football team, and is now in his senior year. Mr. and Mrs. Beidler are in the east visiting their son.

try, and who was arrested Monday and sent to the Ballykinlar internment camp, was released on bail today. It was stated later in a report issued by Dublin castle that a revolver, together with ammunition, a shotgun, and a quantity of seditious literature had been found by the police while searching his home at Kildare.

A. T. HOWE ESTATE $470,000. The value of the estate of Arthur Tamm Howe, late president of the Marblehead Lumber company, is $470,000, according to an estimate filed in the Probate court yesterday. The major portion of the estate is divided among the widow, Mrs. Jennie A. Howe, and a son and daughter. Mr. Howe, a veteran of the civil war, was vice president of the Western Lumber and Cement company at the time of his death.

SOCIAL UNREST IN SPAIN HITS ALL INDUSTRIES

Cheap German Goods Fill the Markets.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
Copyright, 1921, by The Chicago Tribune.
BARCELON, Spain, Jan. 27.—Industrial difficulties, graft, unwise em-barcades, and the competition of German manufacturers have in a year's time reduced Spanish industry from a healthy, prosperous condition to one of most impotence.

Since the last few months of 1919
Spanish manufacturers have experienced the utmost difficulty in maintaining any sort of production, and at present conditions are worse than they have been at any time since the Spanish-American war.

The year 1920 was filled with social unrest, and a continuous state of anarchy, where most of the industry of the nation is centered. Lockouts and strikes, with unsettled market conditions, which have forced suspensions of the textile mills and machine factories, have cut production to such a point that it is less than half that of 1919, and far below the pre-war level.

3,000 Men Slain.

Lack of employment, increased cost of living, and a continuous state of unrest, have brought to the fore, the syndicate Unico, or Red Syndicate, and the syndicate Libre, or White Workers' organization, have reduced industry and commerce to a dangerously low point. Three thousand men have paid off with their lives to the constant strife between the two syndicates, and between workers and owners.

Hardly a day goes by but some one is assassinated on the streets or in the cafes, usually in broad daylight, but at a man has been brought to justice, and the end is not yet.

The Banca de Barcelona suspended its operations, falling for close to a hundred percent. The Banca de Valencia, which operated in twenty-seven cities of Spain, failed and its affairs were taken over in joint receivership by the other banks of Barcelona.

Operate on Small Scale.

The textile mills this month commenced operations on a small scale, and after shutdowns lasting more than two months. Six of the largest establishments have remained closed. Some of the steel mills are operating again under difficulties. The tanneries all are closed, and the fisheries, owing to strikes at the height of the season, are packing only a small percentage of their usual catch.

The chief cause of industrial disruption was the long series of strikes and lockouts which reduced the total number of working months this year to about five in most industries. It became impossible to produce goods, and owing to the hostile attitude of the workers, which lasted until March 1, 1920, and affected all the industries of Catalonia—75 per cent of the nation's industry as a whole—except food distribution and public services.

Two General Strikes.

The lockout was followed by two general strikes, the first originating from trouble between workers and owners and the second from a conflict between the two syndicates. Those with forced shutdowns, caused by lack of markets and other production difficulties, have thrown close to 1,000,000 men out of work the greater part of the year.

At the close of the lockout, when Spanish factories were ready to resume work they were face to face with a new situation—competition from German goods, who flooded the country with goods at prices considerably below those at which Spanish firms could market with profit.

The government, viewing the situation with alarm, has recently raised customs duties by 300 per cent and added the stipulation that duties must be paid in gold or the equivalent thereof, which means that if they are paid in bank notes a full 30 per cent must be added to the new total.

Hurt Trade with U. S.

This measure, while it may help some industries which depend on Spanish raw products, has effectively blocked others, such as the cotton spin-neries, from continuing until exchange rates with Germany are somewhat near normal. It has throttled business between the United States and Spain.
Working conditions have greatly improved over pre-war days. The eight hour day now is generally recognized, and certain protective measures have been forced into operation by legislation.

officers: C. W. Schick, commander;
P. W. Collins, vice commander; C. G.
Spoerer, finance officer; G. G. Speir, adjutant; C. W. Shull, chaplain.

TENANTS TO ASK STATE BOARD TO CONTROL RENTS

A state rent commission similar to that now operating in New York will be provided for in a bill which State Senator Harold C. Kessinger, chairman of the legislative committee on housing problems, will be asked to present to the Illinois legislature by the Chicago Tenants' association.

"We are to confer with Senator Kessinger on Saturday," said J. B. Patterson, president of the association.
"The commission will be given power to regulate rents and it is planned to make the law retroactive, just as they did in New York. We shall try to make it in effect as of Jan. 1, 1921."

"We are receiving reports of advances in rents of 15 and even 50 per cent from the present high prices. This is extortion, and we propose to stop it if we can."

SCHOOLBOOK LAW FIXING PRICES UP FOR DECISION

Federal Judge Carpenter yesterday took under advisement the application of Charles Scribner's Sons, book publishers, for an injunction forbidding the state of Illinois to enforce the law regulating the price of text books. Enforcement would force Scribner's to cease selling books in the state, thus interfering with interstate commerce laws, it is asserted.

Standard Oil to Sell Common to Workers at 155

New York, Jan. 27.—Employees of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey will be allowed to purchase common stock at 155 a share during 1921, it was announced today. The price on the stock exchange today was $160.50. The purchase will be the first under the new plan.

I. C. C. ADVANCES FREIGHT RATES WITHIN ILLINOIS

Must Equal Interstate, Commission Rules.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—(Special.)—Whatever doubt there may have been as to whether the interstate commerce commission would apply the same reasoning to intrastate freight rates that it has to intrastate passenger rates was removed today when it ordered the railroads in Illinois to bring up on or before March 1 the intrastate freight and milk and cream rates in that state to the level of interstate rates for similar service.

The decision in the Illinois case is the first made by the commission as far as a state-wide increase in freight rates is concerned.
Commissioners Hall, Potter, and Cushman dissented, but there was no minority opinion.

Increase of 5 Per Cent.

In view of the fact that the Illinois commission has authorized increases in intrastate freight rates of approximately 35 per cent, the order of the federal commission will result in a general increase of approximately 5 per cent over the existing rates. The increase fixed by the federal commission for interstate freight in Illinois, with certain exceptions, was 40 per cent.

"One of the most important instances of discrimination," said Commissioner McChord, who rendered the opinion, "is found in the Chicago industrial district, which includes not only territory in Illinois but also the city of Chicago but reaches across the state line into Indiana."

Unwritten Promises Broken.
"These industries, when they located in these outlying districts, did so with the understanding that they would forever be treated, from a rate standpoint, like other points in the Chicago district, as though they were located within the city of Chicago. That is, Chicago rates were to apply to and from the entire industrial district."

"That the present treatment of the Indiana cities puts a cloud on their prospects and injures the ability of their industries to do business in Illinois against competitors favored by lower rates intrastate cannot be denied."

VANISHED HEAD OF PHOTOPLAY COMPANY SEEN

The first definite information concerning the whereabouts of Frederick F. Stoll, president and organizer of the United States Photoplay company, who has been missing since Christmas, was discovered here through Robert Lowenthal, a traveling man employed by the Garden City Window Shade company.

"I met Mr. Stoll in Los Angeles, Cal., on Dec. 23," said Mr. Lowenthal, "and we both left on the same train for the east. At Kansas City Mr. Stoll left the train en route to Hot Springs, Ark., where he said he was going to take the baths to relieve his lumbago."

The disappearance of Mr. Stoll, who under President Cleveland was a superintendent of mail carriers in Chicago, was revealed through the filing of a number of suits against him in New Jersey, where the photoplay company has studios.

The meeting, following a banquet in the hotel, was held under auspices of Hotel La Salle post. A twenty-two piece orchestra composed of disabled service men taking vocational training in Chicago furnished music.

HOUSE REJECTS BUDGET BILL FOR ENVOY TO RUSSIA

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—The house voted down tonight a proposal to pave the way for appointment of an ambassador to Russia and struck out of the diplomatic appropriation bill a provision for raising the American legation at Peking to an embassy.

Then, finding its feet entangled in difficult diplomatic problems, it quit work with an agreement to continue consideration of the bill tomorrow.

After brief debate the house rejected an amendment by Representative Masson, Republican, Illinois, to set aside $17,500 as the salary of an ambassador, so that Mr. Harding as president might be prepared without further action to establish diplomatic relations with Russia in the event conditions should develop to make such a course desirable.

TRIBUNE BUREAU GOING STRONG ON INCOME TAX WORK

Since Monday THE TRIBUNE income tax bureau has given out more than 3,000 of the 1040-A blanks, for incomes less than $5,000. More than 1,500 of the 1040's, for incomes of $5,000 or over, a large number of partnership and corporation, 1919 and 1920, and all other necessary blanks for the taxpayer also have been distributed.

Now that we are going strong and realize the advantage of getting in all returns as early as possible, let's go stronger and get all our filing off our minds while the going is good.

There is always some one on the job at THE TRIBUNE bureau from 9:30 until 5:30. All possible assistance is given the taxpayer in filing his return.
This will continue during the entire filing period, until March 15.

E. L. S. asks: "If an employer agrees to pay an employee a certain stipulated salary and furnish him with room and board, are the latter items to be considered in computing income tax liability?" Yes; a fair rental value is to be placed on the room and a fair value upon the meals furnished, and these amounts reported as income by the employee. However, if the room and board are furnished purely for the convenience of the employer, the fair value thereof need not be included in the income of the employee.

11,735 RECEIVE DIPLOMAS FROM PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Nearly twelve thousand pupils of Chicago's grade and high schools are to receive diplomas at the end of the first half of the school year. Some schools held their services last night and some will hold them tonight. The exact number of graduates is 11,735.

Of the 2,725 being graduated from the high schools, more than 900 took the academic course, 230 the technical course and 590 the vocational courses.
Nine thousand will be graduated from the grade schools.

At the Englewood High school the exercises were given last night by the students, the four year, two year, and five months' preparatory classes combining. The principal speaker was the valedictorian, Queena Nystreim;
the salutatorian was Margaret Davis,
and the president of the four year class was Melville Varquette. One hundred and twenty-two will be graduated.

At Lane Technical High school the exercises tonight will include an address by Prof. Rollo Lyman of the English department of the University of Chicago, the valedictorian by Arthur S. Pribe, and the class gift presentation by Roger H. Olson.

A play enacted by the thirty-five graduating pupils of the Agassiz grammar school will mark the exercises there tonight. After the play, which is called "The Puritans of New England," there will be a gymnastic drill by boys.

SPREADING JOBS
OVER ALL YEAR
INDUSTRY'S NEEDHour Day Would Help, Its Friends Say.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

There is a "normal" year, when mills and factories are running at high speed, and the fluctuations in employment are great. The industrial plant as a whole is unorganized. There is no systematic effort to spread work evenly over the year. As a result we have constant fluctuations from rush seasons to dull seasons and back again.

Periodic unemployment in the United States has a wider sweep than in most other large industrial countries. Going back to the days before the war broke out, the mean percentage of unemployment in certain trades for the period 1913 was 2.1 in Germany, 2.7 in Belgium, 4.7 in the British Isles, 7.8 in France, and 13.2 in the United States. When the international labor conference met in Washington a year or so ago the report of its organizing committee in dealing with intermittency of work was:

The fluctuations of industry are pronounced in the United States more than in most other countries, and therefore the variation in the percentage of unemployment is greater. The pre-war percentage of unemployment in the United States were normally about three times as great as those reported in England or Germany. The fluctuations were more violent.

Effect of Three Shift System.

The establishment of three shifts in most of the steel industry would be in the direction of equalizing general employment conditions, especially if backed up with a closer policy of distributing output more evenly over the months. That is one argument the experts are advancing in support of the eight hour system.

It should be supplemented, of course, by a closer interlocking of industry in general so that, for example, one line is not affected by seasonal demand while its maximum production at times when other lines which are hard hit by seasonal conditions are letting men go. It is a move toward the formation of reservoirs of employment.

Results in Twenty Plants.

Recently at a meeting of engineering talent in New York a report was made by Horace B. Drury, former president of the industrial relations department of the United States shipping board, upon the manner in which the shift system has worked out in twenty plants that have introduced it. The report has been the subject of extended discussion.

Some of Mr. Drury's conclusions were:

In order to get the shorter work hours the men have been willing to make substantial concessions in wages. It has been found that a 10 per cent increase in hourly rates is ample to compensate the men for their hours' loss in pay.

"If all departments in a steel plant are to be changed from two to three shifts, with no increase in efficiency, exhaustive analyses made by the government have shown that the total cost of steel products, including blast furnaces, open hearth furnaces, and rolling mill operations, could not on the average be increased more than 3 per cent."

Disagree on Force Increase.

Many leaders in the steel industry believe the eight hour day would require a 50 per cent increase in the working force of the continuous process which are on the two shift system. Mr. Drury declares the experience of companies having the three shift system indicates that a 35 per cent increase instead of 50 would be sufficient.

Wilson to Free Debs as One of His Final Acts?

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—(Special.)—President Wilson may release Eugene V. Debs and others convicted of delaying as one of the closing acts of his official career.

It was reported today that Attorney General Palmer practically has completed his study of the Debs case and expects shortly to advise the president of his conclusions regarding the application for clemency in behalf of Debs and other political prisoners.

The attorney general has expressed opposition to pardoning Debs, but has indicated that sentences of political prisoners will be commuted in what is deemed meritorious cases.

1921 WILL REWARD FIGHTERS

Wounded soldiers were feted yesterday by the Daughters of the Republic at the Edgewater Beach hotel. The soldiers in the picture are disabled, and could not dance, but they gladly posed for the picture. Left to right—Emery Hodson and Miss Vineta Mansell, Owen Hollon and Miss Edna Mittelstadt, Harley J. Brown and Miss Gertrude Durke. Below—Adelaide Holleb, May Ratzer, and Jeannette Woll, "vest pocket" dancers, who entertained the heroes with classical dancing.

OU know the usual way the wounded heroes are entertained—pretty girls, cigarettes, music, and ice cream. The entertainment at the Edgewater Beach hotel yesterday was different. All these things were in evidence, including two pretty girls for every soldier, but there was a surprise in the form of classical dancing.

Several small dancers from the studio of Virna Harman Walker showed the fifty wounded soldiers from Fort Sheridan and the United States Public Service hospital a few new convolutions, kicks, twists, and spins.

The entertainment was given by the Daughters of the Republic.

ANOTHER STEEL STRIKE FEARED BY CHURCHBODY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Another big steel strike more violent than the one which tied up the steel industry in 1919, will break out within the next few years unless congress enacts preventive measures, according to testimony today before the senate labor committee by members of the interchurch commission.

They advocated the creation of a special federal commission to bring about conferences between workers and employers in the steel industry with a view to abolishing the twelve hour work day, the seven work day week, to adjust wages, and establish better and closer relations between the conflicting forces.

They also recommended the committee institute an investigation of the activities of "undercover" men and labor detective agencies, including their relations with the department of justice.

"CO-OP" SOCIETY CHIEFS SEIZED IN WISCONSIN

Racine, Wis., Jan. 27.—Violation of the Wisconsin blue sky law is charged in warrants against Marvin Marston, John Baxon, and Frank Ayers, all connected with the Cooperative Society of America, with headquarters in Chicago, where it operates a number of grocery stores. Bail in each case was fixed at $15,000 and the cases continued to Feb. 4, before Circuit Court Commissioner Bosson. The president of the society is Harrison M. Parker.

The arrest of the three men resulted from three weeks' investigation made by District Attorney Thorwald M. Beck, who alleges the state law has been violated in that the defendants failed to apply for and secure a permit from the state railroad commission, which passes on all stocks, and in that they paid to their salesmen in Racine, a commission in excess of that provided for by the state law.

RAILWAY UNIONS
READY TO FIGHT
WAGE REDUCTIONRoad Chiefs Meet Today to Demand Cuts.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 27.—Any attempt by the railway labor board toward wage reductions will be vigorously opposed by the railroad brotherhoods. Warren S. Stone, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, announced this tonight.

"The men in railroad work are not going to accept reductions in wages now," Mr. Stone said. "They have to pay just as much as they ever did for what they get."

Heads of the brotherhood will attend the hearing on Feb. 10 and fight particularly any attempt to reduce wages on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad to the extent of approximately half the increases granted since Dec. 31, 1917, Mr. Stone said. They also will oppose the general move sponsored by the labor committee of the American Association of Railway Executives.

RAIL CHIEFS MEET TODAY

General wage reductions by all the larger railroads in America will be considered today by the labor committee of the American Association of Railway Executives in an effort to solve what railroad officials say is a precarious transportation situation.

The meeting will make definite recommendations to the association with a view to bringing the matter before the United States railroad labor board.

W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania lines and chairman of the labor committee, arrived yesterday to convene the committee, but no action was taken. Today's meeting will be behind closed doors, but it was predicted by railroad officers that the committee's recommendations would be for some sort of reduction in wages.

The committee's meeting is held in accordance with a resolution adopted by the association of Jan. 7.

Labor Committee Named.

Meanwhile the subject was referred to the labor committee "for early consideration and report as to appropriate action in accord with the transportation act and in keeping with changing economic conditions."

The labor committee, besides Gen. Atterbury, is composed of W. G. Beeley, president of the Central Railroad of New Jersey; H. E. Byram, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul; C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central; N. D. Maher, president of the Norfolk and Western; and W. E. Scott, president of the Southern Pacific lines in Texas and Louisiana.

"Many railroads are in bad financial condition," declared Samuel O. Dunn, advisory counsel to the Association of Railway Executives. "This is due to a decline in business and failure of the roads to earn the revenue expected."

Wage Cut "Only Way Out."

"The roads have reduced their forces as made necessary by the decline in business. They are operating as economically as possible and find no way out except to reduce the pay roll. The 1917 pay roll of $1,700,000,000 is today increased to $3,700,000,000, and as a result many roads are in bad financial condition. Beginning with November, there was a decline in business until the freight movement now is less than two-thirds of what it was three months ago. Apparently there is no way out except to reduce wages."

The United States railway labor wage board, considering the application of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic road for authority to reduce wages of its employees, yesterday ruled the road had no status before the board because it posted an arbitrary notice of wage reduction instead of attempting to reach an agreement with its employees before appealing to the board.

At the same time the board set Feb. 10 as the date of a hearing for consideration of the case, the presumption being the road will then have complied with the requirements of the transportation act.

Following talks by Judge Bernard P. Barasa and Attorney Carroll Gigliotti, many young men signed up. One of the first was Charles V. Pagano, who saw action in France. The recruiting was in charge of Lieut. C. B. Morris and Sergt. Oscar Fosdick.

MARRYING "RICH," BRAZIER'S HOBBY,
NO. 5 CHARGES

Harry Hartzell is known to certain residents of the south side as a brazier and welder with a place of business at 6350 Cottage Grove avenue. But according to Mrs. Louise E. Hartzell, they know only half the story.

"He's a matrimonial broker, and advertises for wealthy wives," says she. "I'm the fifth woman he has married for money—and got it, too."

She filed suit for separate maintenance in the Superior court yesterday through Attorney Charles E. Erbstein.

A year prior to her marriage on July 17, 1920, she had a responsible position, but desired to change, the bill explains. "She advertised," Hartzell answered. She admitted having $1,100 and he proposed a "strictly business alliance."

But it was not until Hartzell introduced a love motif that she consented and they were wed, Attorney Erbstein explained. Shortly afterwards, he asserted, Hartzell obtained the $1,100. A few months later, it is charged, he deserted his wife, but not before boasting four other matrons had preceded Mrs. Hartzell.

"Even now," the bill avers, "Hartzell is seeking to add another star to the galaxy of his helpmates. Recently he published an advertisement for a young woman to assist in cooking and housework, applicants to apply to him personally."

THE TRIBUNE'S PLATFORM FOR CHICAGO

- 1—Lessen the Smoke Horror.
- 2—Create Modern Traction System.
- 3—Modernize the Water Department.
- 4—Build Wide Roads Into the Country.
- 5—Develop All Railroad Terminals.
- 6—Push the Chicago Plan.

THE BUILDING DEADLOCK MUST BE BROKEN.

The department of labor announces that more than 3,400,000 workers have been thrown out of employment in this country within the last year and are now seeking in vain for jobs. The department's report shows that the largest percentage of reduction in labor has been in the automobile trades, with 69 per cent decrease in employment. Building trades are next with a reduction of 52 per cent.

It makes little difference to the man thrown out of a job whether it was a job building an automobile or building a house, but it does make a difference to the man who still has a job and to the country as a whole. Automobiles to a large extent are luxuries. Houses are necessities. Individuals, firms, and even cities may be injured by reduction of automobile building, but the country in general can worry along for some time with this industry greatly reduced. Of far wider scope and of far greater hardship to the public in general is the building reduction.

The housing problem grows more acute daily. We pay double and triple the rents we paid two or three years ago. The reason is simple. The cost of new buildings is double and triple the cost of existing buildings. Therefore we have practically no new building.

A modern twelve apartment building, for instance, which cost approximately $55,000 five years ago paid gross rentals of about $5,000. The same building today is paying a net in the neighborhood of $10,000. That represents a normal return on an investment of about $165,000. Something like that amount would be required of an investor who wished to erect a similar building to pay a similar income, yet the building in question can probably be purchased for around $100,000. In other words, building costs are prohibitive and, despite the housing shortage, we have the anomalous condition in which it is cheaper to buy than to build. Naturally building is restricted.

New York expects not more than 25 per cent of normal building this year. Chicago probably will do no better. And because of the shortage rents go up while 3,400,000 wage earners are without incomes to pay any rents whatever. This way lies trouble for both the property owner and the idle tenant. The building slump in such circumstances is due entirely to artificial influences. Prosecutions now under way may remove some of those influences. Lifting of material restrictions and labor restrictions and capital restrictions may remove others. They most certainly should be removed. The housing shortage was a menace to the country even when all workers were earning good incomes. Today it is a greater menace, and with less excuse, in that labor is available to correct it.

For the comfort and safety of the nation the deadlock must be broken. The situation cries to the world for a business, industrial, or political leader big enough to break it and start things moving. If the deadlock is not broken the builders will be. Contractors, building trades men, and building supply men cannot remain in business unless building revives. In self-defense they should revive it at the earliest possible moment. Only one way is open—lower prices.

MORE MEDDLING WITH JAPAN.

It is proper for the department to get an explanation of the Langdon shooting, but the policy of the United States towards the westward expansion of Japan is one for the new government to formulate, and it should not be embarrassed by questions directed by the present administration to the Japanese government.

Mr. Harding may not care to have the question asked. Mr. Harding may believe that it is to the best interests of the United States that Japan should be kept expanding at the expense of Asia, and that she should turn away from the Americas. We do not know and neither does the Wilson government know, and it cannot with propriety anticipate decisions.

Mr. Wilson has been devoted to pinning Japan. If the United States has a valid interest in Asia it is in strengthening and forwarding the traditional friendship between China and the United States. Yet Mr. Wilson, where the real interests of the United States were involved, asked the United States senate to give its moral approval to the transfer of Shantung province to Japan.

The senate would not do this, but Mr. Wilson insisted upon it. He was willing that Japan should be confirmed in this possession, but when the occupation of Saghalien and Siberia by the Japanese came up he protested. The only interest the United States could have in the Siberian advancement of Japan would be related to a policy which has not been formulated. That policy would require the restriction of Japan in order that she should not acquire dominion, resources, and power which would make her dangerous.

It is in itself a very dangerous policy and would require a strong hand. If the state department keeps pecking away at Japan it virtually will commit us to the policy and nothing else in the United States, and worst of all our military policy, is in accord with it.

If it is America's decision to restrain Japan within her gates the United States must be big enough for the job. It cannot be done by sticking pins in Japan. Mr. Wilson's idea with regard to Asia have been consistently curious. How his difference to our friends, the Chinese, can be reconciled to his fervent watchfulness over the Siberians, who mean nothing to us, we do not know. We could not protect the Chinese and deliver them, but we need not go out of our way to sanction the taking of their rich province. We cannot protect the Siberians, and we ought not to go out of our way to make Japan mad by our interference. Mr. Wilson tried to put us in just as bad as we possibly could get in both directions.

A NEW TARIFF, OR A NEW POLICY?

"Out of our abundance of resources, out of our greater ability to produce, and out of our boasted American efficiency ought to come American eminence in world wide trade."

"I do not see how we can retain our home markets, and at the same time maintain American standards of production and American standards of living, unless we make other peoples with lower standards pay for the privilege of trading in the American markets."

These two statements, made by President Harding in a message to the people of the south made public at Atlanta, Ga., will intrigue the interest of every business man, every economist, every national politician, and every tariff expert in the United States. In one sentence the president elect, under whose administration a new tariff law will be formulated and adopted, says our superior advantages should assure our foreign trade. In the next sentence he doubts that these same advantages can protect our domestic trade.

Such views emphasize the greatness and difficulty of the task of formulating a tariff law under the altered world economic conditions which are now confronted. It is a task which may require from a Republican congress not only a new tariff law but a new tariff policy.

The two statements of Mr. Harding are not incompatible. One deals with home trade and another deals with foreign trade. But in considering them we must not overlook a truism of trade to the effect that the man or country that does not buy cannot sell. If we make it impossible for the people of Europe to sell to us we can hardly expect to sell to them. And unless we sell to them our local markets will soon be glutted with the surplus of those products which we produce most readily. Prosperity will not result from such a situation. Unless we buy from them they can neither pay us the billions which they now owe, nor pay for the exports which we hope to send to them in years to come.

GENTLE WRESTLING.

Jack Curley, who is promoting championship wrestling matches in New York, says that the headlock is barred from his shows in the future. Stranger Lewis, the champion, in his bout with Earl Chaddock laid his opponent out cold with the head lock. He also dislocated vertebrae for a Texas wrestler, and he paralyzed Joe Stecher so that his left arm even now is hanging limp.

The Tribune's experts say that it is not so much the headlock itself as the manner in which Lewis uses it, with his great power and weight, which makes it deadly. He clamps the vise on their poor heads, gets their bodies into a distortion and then falls on them. Something has to give way, the spinal column, an arm or a leg or something.

It is a rare sport, but highly moral. You might just as well put on a show in which a man was to be broken on the wheel or put on the rack for the amusement of five or ten thousand people, but American conventions which shy at prize fighting permit wrestling.

It has in it the possibilities of more condensed agony than any prize fight, but the combatants do not strike blows at each other. Wrestling begins, in our moralistic conceptions, with the friendly scuffle, but blows are struck in anger. A friendly scuffle can be developed professionally into a skilled system of torture, but it remains sanctioned because it seems to be strength pitted against strength without intent to damage.

People who consider prize fighting a moral obliquity think of wrestling as a tug of war. When you begin to deal with conventions of propriety, virtue and public morality in the United States you throw away your logic and take to the woods.

CERTAINLY A BONER.

The two Yankee detectives who tried to out Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the wealthy Pennsylvania draft dodger, out of a wedding party at Ebersbach, Baden, and run him out of Germany into the United States, showed rare pep, but not rare judgment.

What our war department does not want to see is any more of Bergdoll. Mr. Baker probably hopes that the indignant Germans put the two Americans into the penitentiary, as they threaten to do. Keeping Bergdoll himself out of the penitentiary has bothered nearly everybody in Washington. Mr. Baker probably said "boneheads" when he learned that two Americans had tried to run him back when he was safe in Germany.

These two detectives should be told that we have here in the United States 175,000 draft dodgers, and the war department does not know what to do with them if they do not take advantage of time and opportunity granted to clear out. For the love of Mike, use discretion. Mr. Baker is no sooner able to rub his hands and say "Good! that's one gone!" when some woody enthusiast tries to drag him back into the country again. We suspect that Washington is just as indignant as Berlin.

Editorial of the Day

SQUATTER SOVEREIGNTY IN CHICAGO.
(New York Evening Post.)

Something like the shock it felt when Dowd died was Chicago's yesterday. It was bad enough to see "Bathhouse John" and "Hinky Dink" shown of their glory. Now that Cap'n Streeter is no more Chicagoans will feel their city a tame, state place. Streeter began to make Chicago life interesting before the world's fair. No man could have desired a more dramatic entry upon the stage than his. He awoke one morning to find that the storms had made him and his little wheeled schooner on the lake front a present of a great parcel of land worth a tidy fortune. A fine expanse of park had stretched out into the lake, and on one part of it has risen the splendid Field museum. The city has learned to do its own squating.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

THE sleeping sickness (not the African variety) is more mysterious than the flu. It will be remembered that two things were discovered about the flu: first, that it was caused by a certain bacillus, and, second, that it was not caused by that bacillus. But all that is known about the sleeping sickness is that it attacks, by preference, carpenters and plumbers.

Dogs of Pedigree.
Sirs: What do you make of this? "McDonough dogs, because of their superiority in design and material, will never let go. Our dogs are made to fit any carriage knee. Why not get real service from your carriage dogs?"

Well, it puzzled me, too, until I saw I had wandered into a sawmill machinery ad. W. S. WHEN the boys came home, we were assured, things would be different. We were skeptical, but we did believe this much: that if an invention were to be a member of the A. E. F. his fellows would resent it effectively, and not leave public indignation to the newspapers. This belief seems not to have been well founded; although there may be undercurrents of resentment and indignation that we were not of it.

LITERARY NOTE.
(From the Glasgow Republican-Register.)
Prof. Mercer Knox college gave a discourse on the relative merit of George Sand and Marcelle Tinayre, writers of English and continental extraction, telling of the lives of the two men and comparing them and their works.

KA Conrad Hearst considered the menacing and insidious English muffs? Why not view that, too, with patriotic alarm?

DOMESTIC COMPLEXES.
Sirs: Was awakened by a hug indicating a surcharge of tender attachment. She unburdened an explanation thusly: "Oh, what a nightmare! I dreamed that I was married to Curious. [An expletive follows.] My wife called me to wake up and find that I am still married to my little old nobody husband."

A. S. H. WHAT is d'Annunzio up to? Every time we think of this impulsive person wandering around with a phial of poison in his inside pocket we experience a sinking feeling.

A Story That Grows on You.

Mrs. H. Wallace Adams of South Newfane recently had a narrow escape from serious results of poisoning. For weeks she has suffered intensely from nervous prostration. One day last week she went to the shelf and took down a bottle for a dose of medicine. No sooner had she swallowed the dose than she felt a burning sensation in her throat, and she found that she had made a mistake. Looking at the bottle she read, to her consternation, "Muratic Acid." She called to her husband and told him what she had done. Sweet milk was the first remedy taken and Mr. Adams ran to a neighbor's for advice. Upon returning he got the whites of eggs of which she drank a cupful. No further trouble has been caused by the mistake. The medicine bottle has no intention of repeating the dose. The nervous pain left her a few days, but has since returned. The white of eggs which Mrs. Adams drank were whole eggs of a small size. The husband was laid by a good-sized pullet which never has laid any other sort of an egg. Mr. Adams had resolved to kill the pullet, but she had been so kind to him that he had decided to keep her. She is a hen, too, is a treasure when white cakes and frostings are on the menu.

[This, the compositor assures us, beats the hen that laid golden eggs.]

COOL WATERERSON declines to make public addresses, giving as a reason that he is 90 years old. But there is a better reason. Watererston should withdraw, scornfully, into the Silence. The mint julep has been banished from the land.

HISS THIS ON YOUR GRITTER.
(From the Country Gentleman.)
"This way—quick, now!" hissed the curator. "Don't anybody shoot except Sadok until I say the word," grunted the curator.

WE acknowledge the receipt of versions of "The Veteran" representing half the colleges in the country, and we regret that they contain only a half-pennyworth of poetry to an intolerant den of sack.

HAVE YOU A LITTLE EVANGELINE IN YOUR HOME?

Sirs: From "Evangeline" she bore to the reapers "When in the harvest heat she bore to the reapers. Flashes of home-brewed ale, ah! fair in sooth was the maiden."

Then Evangeline lighted the brazen lamp on the table. Filled, till it overflowed, the pewter tankard with home-brewed Nut-brown ale, that was famed for its strength in the village of Grand Pre.

To-day we have a great army of millions all over these U. S. filling tankards with home-brew.

R. G. T. WE have been looking over, "Forms Suggested for Telegram Messages," issued by the Western Union. While more humorous than perhaps was intended, they fall short of the forms suggested by Max Beerholm, in "How Shall I Word It?" As for example:

Dear Lady Amblesham, Who gives quickly, says the old proverb, gives twice. For this reason I have purposely delayed writing to you, lest I should appear to thank you more than you deserve. As you have honored me by your letter, I am writing to you on the occasion of my recent wedding. Were you a poor woman, that little bowl of ill-mannered Dresden china would convert you of tastelessness merely; were you a blind woman, of nothing but a blind woman's odors; but as you have normal eyesight and more than normal wealth, your gift to me proclaims you at once a Philistine and a miser (or rather did so proclaim you until, less than ten seconds after I had unpacked it from its wrappings of tissue paper, I took it to the open window and had the satisfaction of seeing it shattered to atoms on the pavement). But stay! I perceive a flaw in my argument. Perhaps you are a miser and a Philistine, but you are not a blind woman. I am sure, on reflection, that this is so. I shall not forget. Yours, etc.

CYNTHIA BEAUMARSH. PS. My husband asks me to tell you to warn Lord Amblesham to keep out of his way or to assume some disguise so complete, that he will not be recognized by him and horsewhipped.

PPS. I am sending copies of this letter to the principal London and provincial newspapers.

REPLYING to the complaint of the Quincy Railway Co., that people litter their cars with banana peelings and peanut shells, a passenger declares: "I just want to say that you ought to be glad that your passengers don't eat watermelons on the street cars."

BAFFLED.
(From the Montreal Star.)
We think there are plenty of nice girls in this town [Huntingdon], and nice enough for any of the Huntingdon boys, but the latter prefer going out with girls from some of our near-by towns. We often wonder what the attraction is, certainly not their looks.

ANOTHER popular mode of sentiment and reflection, heard by L. M. G. in Wisconsin lumber camps, is:—
"I've traveled east, I've traveled west,
As far as the town of Green,
But the damndest town I ever struck
Is the town they call Chicago."

SUR LE BALCON.
Sirs: The men of the National City Bank are being vaccinated on the balcony. There is nothing like being original.

PULL DECAYED MILK TEETH.
THE milk teeth are apt to decay before the time comes to shed them. When decay appears in these teeth the parents sometimes consult dentists, and when they do they not infrequently get conflicting opinions. One dentist advises leaving in Mary's teeth just as long as possible, even though decay is extensive.

He says unless the milk teeth are left in as long as possible the jaws will not develop properly or the nearby teeth will slide into the vacant space. In consequence Mary goes on having toothache, tender teeth, and maybe rheumatism or St. Vitus' dance. Johnny is taken to another dentist, who says the decayed teeth should come out. Between the two opinions parents are left in a state of perplexity.

There are three reasons for early and extensive decay in the milk teeth. Many of them are forming their crowns in the last months of fetal life and many children are born in bad health and with low vitality. The remainder are forming their crowns during the first six months of life. In one period or the other, however, they are exposed to the influence of bacteria, and all of this means that the milk teeth are apt to be of poor quality.

In the second place, there is no other period of life in which the teeth are so badly neglected as during this first fifteen years. Not even the careful people have the habit of daily cleaning the baby's teeth. The children a little older are not much better off.

In the third place, the great physical activity of children calls for a carbohydrate diet, and such a diet makes for decay of teeth.

An English practitioner, Dr. F. S. Steadman, has long advocated the very free extraction of decayed milk teeth. He says it accomplishes very little to fill the cavities in milk teeth. Because the pulp is so large that it lies near the surface and is nearly always infected when decay is present. When he finds a shallow cavity with no evidence of an exposed pulp he fills it at once. Of course, the pulp can be infected without being exposed. If the pulp is infected he extracts it.

On occasions to extracting the milk teeth, Dr. Steadman says, are not valid. He finds that such children masticate their food well. He has paid special attention to the charge that in such cases the jaws do not develop well and he finds no basis at all for the statement. The charge that the nearby teeth tend to slide into the vacant space he finds to be of little practical importance, except as regards the teeth of the lower jaw. The decay which erupts at six years is permanent teeth, and not milk teeth. If the teeth are drawn after the six years molar have occluded this is not likely to happen. In other words, the objection is not valid if the child is over 7 years of age.

REPLY.
1. Only a small part of the letters without stamps and addresses can be answered. Always send stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

2. A fault in the valve between the two cavities of the left heart, a fault which interferes with the flow of blood. It is dangerous and calls for attention.
3. It is moderately so, but much depends on the degree. Distinguishing and following certain hygienic rules are helpful.
4. Probably it is due to your cardio-vascular trouble.
5. My guess is the same as in answer 4.
6. The only light this throws on your case is that it indicates that you have not worried about arterio sclerosis.

Letters for this department must be signed with names and addresses of the writers.

EAST SAILING NOW.
Chicago, Jan. 18.—(To the Friend of the People.)—Are tenants supposed to dump ashes into the alley between Robey street and Seelye avenue? It is in such a condition that it is impossible to get through the alley with an automobile. There are a number of cars in the block which have to make use of the alley every night and morning. Please advise.

G. F. S. The ashes complained of were removed on the 19th inst. and notices have been served to provide metallic receptacles for garbage and ashes, also to stop dumping in the alley.
THOMAS H. DAVIS, Supt. of Streets.

OVERDOING IT.
Chicago, Jan. 26.—(To the Legal Friend of the People.)—I am within the power of a municipal judge, sitting as a police magistrate, to dismiss a complaint of larceny, the accused having been arrested on a warrant, arraigned for trial, and found guilty of the crime. Is it the same identical offense tried the accused and impose a fine?

2. Is it within the power of such a judge, upon the basis of a criminal charge of larceny, to order the accused to pay to the complainant whose property was taken the value of that property fixed by the complainant, the amount being paid by the accused for fear of unknown pains and penalties directly to the complainant and not as a fine?

3. If not, and the assumption of such power is in effect giving to a magistrate the functions of a collection agency and a gross usurpation, to whom should appeal be made in the interest of the public to put an end to such practices, the accused not having taken an appeal.

C. C. B. 1. The fact that he got away with it seems to show that he has the power, but we would regard it as an illegal exercise of power.
2. No.
3. Try taking up the matter first with the police and if they refuse to do so, then a client's case, we need hardly warn you against the possibility that the facts may not accord with the statement.

TRIBUTE LAW DEPARTMENT.
SETTING THE ESTATE.
Dubuque, Ia., Jan. 25.—(To the Legal Friend of the People.)—An aunt dies leaving an estate of farm lands, mortgages, and stocks, leaving one-third to me. How long will it be before settlement is made?
2. If settlement is not made by the administrator?

TRIBUTE LAW DEPARTMENT.
JOINT OWNERSHIP.
Elgin, Ill., Jan. 26.—(To the Legal Friend of the People.)—Husband and wife rent a safety deposit box for their joint use and are both entered on bank books as holders of it. If one dies does the survivor have access to the box without any legal obstacles?
A. J. C. We advise taking the matter up with the officials in charge of the box, since you are chiefly interested in what they will do rather than in abstract rules of law.

TRIBUTE LAW DEPARTMENT.
LATE DEMANDS.
Chicago, Jan. 25.—(To the Legal Friend of the People.)—I recently sold my store under the bulk sales law which required me to furnish the purchaser with an affidavit showing a list of my creditors and the amounts due them.

The creditors were notified to file their claims within five days. The deal was consummated and one concern neglected to send in its claims. They now wish to collect. Can they force me to pay?
Yes.

AGRICULTURE—ANSWERS.
1. What is the fundamental industry of the United States? Agriculture.
2. What were the six crops leading in value in 1917? Corn, cotton, hay, wheat, oats and potatoes.
3. What controls the general distribution of crops throughout the United States? Their general distribution is controlled largely by climate; their detailed distribution is influenced by soil, topography, transportation facilities, market conditions, and other factors.

4. About how many varieties of corn are known? About 300.
5. Where did wheat probably originate? In Mesopotamia.
6. How are wheats commonly classified? Spring and winter wheat, red, white, hard, and soft.
7. Where do oats thrive best? In a moist and relatively cool climate.
8. What are probably the most important hay? Timothy, clover, and alfalfa.
9. What plants besides cotton are grown for their fiber to any large extent in the United States? Flax and hemp.
10. From what is linseed oil obtained? From the seed of flax.

MAKING THE STATE LIABLE FOR PAROLE BOARD'S ERRORS.
Chicago, Jan. 22.—(Editor of The Tribune.)—Does The Tribune use the crime wave, namely, paroles, would suggest as a parole board is a part of the state machinery, accountable to no one but themselves, that a certain amount of responsibility be placed on their actions, namely, when one of their mistakes commits further crime the state be made liable for suit for damage done.

REPLY.
On the 12th the Voice quotes a very reasonably worded reply to the Herald-Slackner from Roy F. Dusenbury and four other replies suggesting vigorous action. On the 13th appears the editorial "A Fair Trial and the Politicians," appealing to the Legion to enter politics and attack the newly installed state government with which The Tribune is engaged in a bitter battle.

On Jan. 4 "The Herald-Slackner" appeared in the Voice. I can't imagine any sort of real Red or actual pacifist would send such a letter to The Tribune. However, on the 13th appears the editorial, "Our Neglected Veterans," which closes with the suggestion that the American Legion take political action.

PROTECT WAGES, TOO, TEXTILE WORKERS PLEAD

Send Representative to House Tariff Hearing.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—A demand that textile manufacturers agree to maintain recent wage levels and standard of work if they are to receive additional protection through increased duties was made before the house ways and means committee today by John Golden of New York, representing the United Textile Workers of America. Mr. Golden said he spoke for 175,000 organized workers.

Prior to Mr. Golden's appearance, cotton manufacturers had urged increased duties. Mr. Golden said he did not question the good faith of these particular manufacturers, but if there was any way to do it, he would like to prevent any possibility of further reductions of wages of textile workers to the levels which prevailed before the war.

Tariff Debate in Senate.

Republican senators began the circulation today of a petition to invoke a cloture rule to force a vote on the emergency agricultural tariff bill. It was stated that more than the necessary sixteen signatures were obtained.

It was declared that the votes of ten or twelve Democrats are counted upon. This would not quite bring the total up to the necessary two-thirds.

The Fordney emergency tariff bill was theoretically before the senate today, in a speech by Senator Simmons, Democrat, of North Carolina, and in a brief debate on sugar items.

Senator Simmons' speech was directed at what he termed the inequities of the proposed legislation. He charged that congress would be exceeding its power and asserted that its provisions were confiscatory, in that they would compel consumers to pay tribute.

The North Carolina senator also took Senator McCumber to task for "supporting legislation which not only would increase the price of bread and cereals, but would place the United States in a position to suffer retaliation at the hands of Canada, from which Mr. McCumber has said the "dangerous wheat importations" come."

Would Have Little Effect.

Denying that Canadian prices were lower than those in the United States, Mr. Simmons quoted statistics to show that prices had varied little between Minneapolis and Winnipeg. This country, the senator added, is on an exporting basis and therefore the slight difference between the prices would have no effect.

Senator Kling, Democrat, of Utah, asked whether it would not be proper for the government to "take care of the unemployed with a pension if it were going to take care of the wheat farmer and the Louisiana sugar grower." He declared that congress should never establish such a precedent.

Mention of Louisiana sugar brought from Senator Ransdell the declaration that if the congress could do anything to relieve the agricultural industry it ought to do so. He said he did not believe present conditions would last forever and the farmers should be aided over the emergency.

GEN. DAWES TO EXPLAIN WORK AS U. S. BUYER

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Gen. Charles G. Dawes of Chicago, who supervised purchases for the American army in Europe, has been asked to appear before the house committee investigating foreign expenditures by the war department to explain expenditures of money that he approved.

Col. Edwin D. Bricker, purchasing agent of the ordnance department, today testified before the committee that prior to the signing of the armistice the French government received orders aggregating $523,670,000 for artillery material and munitions and $6,148,694 for commissary and that Great Britain received orders aggregating $140,319,276.

Gen. Dawes supervised and approved all expenditures made for the army in excess of 1,000 francs, Col. Bricker said.

A Danger Signal—Tender and Bleeding Gums

Healthy teeth cannot live in diseased tissue. Gums tainted with Pyorrhea are dangerously diseased. For not only the teeth are affected, but Pyorrhea germs seep into the body, lower its vitality and cause many ills.

Pyorrhea begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the poisonous germs that breed in pockets about them.

Four out of five people over forty have this disease. But you need not have it. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection. And keep Pyorrhea away by using Forhan's For the Gums.

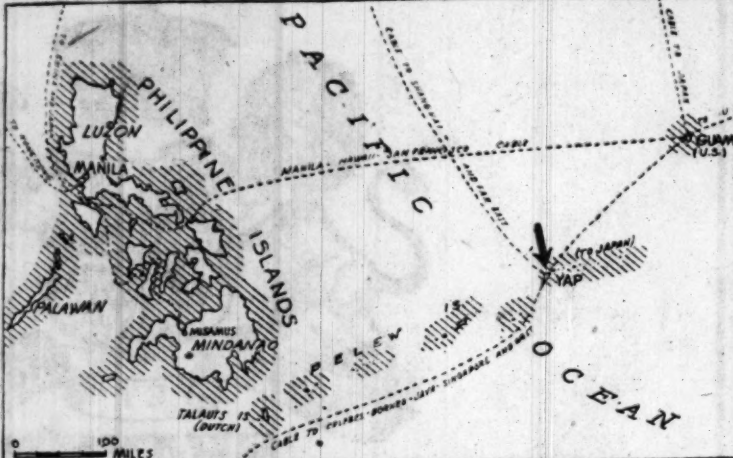

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy, the teeth white and clean. If you have tender or bleeding gums, start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

LITTLE TROUBLE MAKER

The arrow shows the island of Yap, a little over 300 miles east of the Philippines, which is of great interest at the present time. Washington may refuse to recognize the Japanese mandate to the North Pacific islands unless Yap is internationalized. It is charged that Japan and England tricked President Wilson in his request for equal American rights in this island. The island, with the remainder of the Pelew group, was given to Japan. The great importance of this little dot of coral lies in its cable station. It lies at the junction of the Shanghai and the Far East line and the cable through East India, via Singapore, to India.

THE BANK OF KINDNESS

Draw a Check on It for the Unfortunate.

BY REV. G. A. MACWHORTER.

Miss Helen Palmer, a popular University of Chicago girl, is responsible for a clever addition to the performance of "The Joy of Singing."

The musical comedy to be presented by the University Women's Athletic Association at Mandel hall on Feb. 4, 5, 11, and 12.

Miss Palmer is the chief lyricist of the production, and when she had finished supplying the author of the "book," Miss Josephine S. Trode, with rhymes and measures, she turned her attention toward helping the European relief council in its effort to raise $1,000,000 in Chicago for the 3,500,000 starving children of Europe.

She wrote another lyric—not about "The Joy of Singing," but about the misery of the hungry little children overseas—and Miss Gertrude Pfeiffer, composer of the music for the show, has set Miss Palmer's words to music.

The Bank of Kindness' statement for Jan. 27, 1921, is as follows:

CHURCH MAY TRY MINISTER FOR DUPONT WEDDING

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—The Rev. Baker P. Lee, former rector of Christ's church, may be tried before twelve of his peers in the Episcopal church for performing the marriage ceremony for Alfred I. Du Pont, multimillionaire, a divorced man, and Miss Jessie D. Ball, in this city last Saturday.

The maximum penalty, under canon 42, is deposition from the Episcopal ministry. The convention of the diocese of Los Angeles adopted a resolution assuring Bishop Johnson it would support him if he called the Rev. Mr. Lee to trial. It is believed the bishop will take that action.

The Rev. Mr. Lee contends that Mr. Du Pont is in good standing with his parish in New York, that the church receives large contributions from him, and that he is a communicant, and it is impossible to administer one sacrament and refuse another.

MILLER TROLLEY PLAN CAN'T BE WORKED, CLAIM

New York, Jan. 27.—Conditions peculiar to New York City render impracticable Gov. Miller's traction program for a unified state controlled system, as outlined in his message to the legislature on Monday. It is asserted in a report of traction investigations conducted by the city club of New York and made public tonight.

The report was prepared by the club's committee on public service after an investigation of traction problems throughout the country, with particular attention to the service at cost plan that has obtained in Cleveland, O., since 1910.

When Furniture loses its looks renew it with FLOORLAC

FURNITURE loses its looks long before it loses its usefulness. You doubtless have many pieces in your attic too good to throw away and too shabby to use. Bring them out and renew them with FLOORLAC, the all around varnish stain.

A can and a brush and a little time will do it. Just paint them once over with Floorlac. That will color them—mahogany, oak, cherry or some other rare wood tone—and varnish them at the same time, making them attractive enough to go in the best room in your house.

Floorlac wears well, stands water, dries quickly and holds its color and does not scratch white.

Don't be without Floorlac. It has endless uses—for floors, woodwork and many other home surfaces.

TAILOR SHOPS REDS' HOTBEDS, NEW HEAD SAYS

President of Association
Urges Citizenship.

"Tailor shops are the hotbeds of radicalism and merchant tailors must take immediate steps to make good citizens of the foreigners that have crept into the industry."

Wilbur W. Stewart, newly elected president of the National Association of Merchant Tailors, last night declared in speaking before the closing session of the convention at the Congress hotel.

"The problem of the Americanization of their employes is the problem the merchant tailors must handle immediately."

"There are too many people in this country with only their first papers. They go along year after year and do not take upon themselves the responsibility of citizens and the country is the worse for it."

Mr. Stewart called attention to the prevalence of radical literature. "You can buy all kinds of radical literature for 15 and 20 cents a book. When you come to buy books that teach good American citizenship you find that they cost $3 and $4 and even $5 a copy."

KIDS AGAIN

Normal School Graduates Have Final Frolic Before Beginning Work as Teachers.

Catherine McGrath (at left) and Clarissa Coyte.

MEMBERS of the graduating class of the Chicago Normal college, Sixty-ninth street and Stewart avenue, played at being kids again yesterday. It was the annual class day and the teachers-to-be did everything for which they will hereafter reprove their pupils-to-be, so to speak.

They skated into school on roller skates and romped and frolicked about like an unruly kindergarten class. They brought their tea wagons from home, served tea, and presented a class play which they had written, called "Normal College of 1921." It was their last frolic before settling down to duty as teachers.

Among those who took part in the play were the Misses Olive Hawley, Lillian Grant, Lena Lathrop, Edna Lethenstrom, Catherine McGrath, Clarissa Coyte, Ruth Harwood, Hilda Heilenius, Geneva Barker and Isabelle Nagle.

"STALLED OFF" BY MRS. PEETE, TENANT SAYS

Quakes Caused Worry
Over Cellar, Claim.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 27.—Mrs. Ida L. Gregory, assistant judge and clerk of the juvenile court at Denver, testified today for the prosecution in the trial of Mrs. Louise L. Peete, charged with the murder of Jacob Charles Denton.

Mrs. Gregory said she was a joint tenant with Mrs. Peete in the Denton home from June 2 to 30, 1920, during which time she was "almost always in the company of" the defendant.

She had arranged to move into the house May 31, Mrs. Gregory testified, but was delayed by Mrs. Peete until the afternoon of June 1, on the morning of which day the state charges Mrs. Peete killed Denton and buried his body in the cellar.

Tells of Mystery Woman.
Subsequently, Mrs. Gregory said, the defendant told her Denton had left the house June 1 in company with a woman with whom he had quarreled. This woman, the witness stated Mrs. Peete told her, was waiting on the porch the night of May 31, when Denton and Mrs. Peete returned home. The witness said she never had seen the cellar.

Quakes Upset Mrs. Peete.
Mrs. L. D. Frough said that after an earthquake shock in July Mrs. Peete appeared greatly agitated and ran into the cellar "to see if it had been damaged."

James Wilton Crowhurst, who stated he was a "heater expert, vocal teacher, and licensed real estate dealer," testified he was employed by Mrs. Peete to repair a heater in the house.

PULLMAN SHOPS, 19 CARS, BURN; LOSS $450,000

Freight car shops of the Pullman company, covering nearly two square blocks at One Hundred and Eighth street and Langley avenue, together with seven new refrigerator cars and twelve Pullman sleepers, were destroyed by fire early yesterday at an estimated loss of $450,000.

Several hours later, in another fire caused by the explosion of a benzine tank on the first floor of the Paris Dyeing and Cleaning company's plant at 304-322 West Thirty-first street, two men received burns and seventy-five employees, many of them women and girls, were compelled to flee. The injured men are Albert H. Bernstein, 314 West Sixty-fifth street, and Joseph Hacht, 3553 Potomac avenue. The property loss is estimated at $2,500.

The fire in the shops of the Pullman company was discovered by watchmen shortly before 5 o'clock. Firemen, working under direction of Acting Marshal Edward Buckley, prevented the flames from spreading to other shops.

According to a statement by Vice President J. B. Weaver, the blaze was the result of spontaneous combustion in the toolroom of the shops. There is no evidence of incendiaryism, he says.

If Ben Franklin were here

he'd buy his clothes in the wholesale district

BEN FRANKLIN stands out in history as the world's greatest thrift-apostle. Thrift was his passion—the nub and net of his most famous proverbs.

But Franklin was no miser. He stood for wise expenditure, not hurtful hoarding. He believed in circulating the dollar; but in steering it where it gets the best going and the best return.

Franklin would have hailed with delight the privilege of buying his clothes direct of the producer, paying one profit instead of two or three.

The Royal System of selling from the wholesale plant, at producer's prices, would have been "gravy" to him.

And especially during this January Sale, when we are not only providing the making of the suit at cost—but the making of the cloth and the trimmings on the same basis.

Certain Eastern woolen mills, forced to liquidate their overstocks, consigned them to us at actual weaver's cost. To do the job quickly, and keep our shops busy during January, we are giving you the cost prices just as they were given us, and are furnishing our own part of the contract at cost prices, too.

If you are Franklin-frugal and Franklin-wise—you'll do your clothes shopping here, while January still remains on your calendar pad.

TRIBUNE DERBIES ENTRANTS READY FOR PISTOL CRACK

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

With two days remaining before the Tribune's Annual Silver Skates derby, the entrants are ready for pistol crack.

Word was flashed from Milwaukee yesterday that Johnny Holander, who will represent the Northwest Skating club, is training like a Trojan and confidently expects to take the silver plated blades back to the city. In this event he is expected to meet with stiff opposition from Edwin Reed of the Optimates club and Harold Storch of Swift playground. Not to mention the numerous other contestants in the same race.

Club Rivalry Is Keen.
Club rivalry is beginning to assert itself and already a number of the organizations have it figured that their favorites will win. All of the leading local skating clubs have contenders in all races and the struggles for places should be closer and more interesting than in any of the previous derbies.

Col. John V. Cunniff, who will act as referee of the derbies, wants the skaters to understand that they must be a full stride ahead of any opponents before they can cut in to take the pole. Sharp cut-outs will not be tolerated and the inspectors, with Harry Halverson as chief, will be instructed to watch closely for such fouls. As disqualifications tend to mar a successful athletic venture it is hoped skaters will heed the referee's warning.

Skating Conditions O. K.
Despite the weather, conditions still remain ideal for the derbies. The ice on the racing lagoon is firm and hard as can be expected. All that is needed for the weather to remain around the freezing point. Supt. Grunwald and his assistants intend to do everything possible to have the ice in the best condition possible.

Capt. Prouty of the West Parks police yesterday announced he will assign sixty policemen to keep the course clear and aid in telling the spectators where to go to get the best view of the races. Every precaution will be taken by the police and officials to prevent accidents to spectators or contestants.

Prizes on Exhibition.
The handsome prizes, which will be given to the winners of first, second and third places in each of the three races, are now on display in the Madison street windows of THE TRIBUNE building.

The complete list of entries, together with the names of the contestants will appear in the club school or playground which represent, will be published in full in Sunday's edition of THE TRIBUNE.

Lane High Team and Sinai in Tank Meet Tomorrow

In connection with the swimming meet between Sinai Social Center and Lane High school team tomorrow the Sinai girls will stage a push ball game. There will be girls' fancy diving and a 100 yard breast stroke race between the champion girl of the evening class and the champion of the afternoon class.

The Lane High school boys have held the championship of the Chicago high schools for the last four years, and Sinai has held the A. A. P. championship since the organization of Sinai Social Center—1912.

SEVEN OLYMPIC STARS TO COMPETE IN I. A. C. TRACK MEET TONIGHT

Featured by the appearance of seven athletes who were members of the victorious American Olympic team at Antwerp, Belgium, last summer, and a two mile match relay race between teams representing Notre Dame and Ames college of Iowa, the fourth annual indoor handicap track and field meet of the Illinois A. C. will be held in the Broadway armory to-night.

The seventy yard dash will bring together Bill Hayes of Notre Dame, Loren Murchison, formerly of the New York A. C., attached, and the Illinois A. C. who will start from scratch in tonight's dash.

Jole Ray of the I. A. C., one of the greatest distance runners of modern times, will make first start since the Olympic games. Jole will compete in the two mile run.

Chuck Mellor, formerly of the Logan Square A. C., who was a member of the American Marathon team in the world's games, will be a contestant in the distance runs, while Desch of Notre Dame and Harry Goeltz of the I. A. C., two other members of the American Olympic squad, will compete in the high and low hurdles, two scratch events.

Six Prep Schools in Relay.

The one and seven-eighths mile medley relay race for high schools should result in an interesting contest with six teams nominated. La Grange has entered two teams, while Providence, Lindbloom, Senn, and Crane will be represented by one squad each.

Entries for the American Legion relay race will be accepted when the event is called. Competition will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Woods and Waters

LARRY STJOHN

BIRD NOTES.

READER in Quincy, Ill., writes: "The Mississippi river down here has practically reached the low water mark; there are plenty of ducks with us and no one really knows exactly what species they are. Every one has a different name for them. They form in flocks of from fifty to 100 and it is a common sight right now to see from ten to thirty such flocks in the water or air, and right on the city water front. Some call them whistlers, golden eye, loon, or ice ducks. The writer has observed mallards among them."

"They are seen to dive all together; apparently all come up together. They have been described as follows: Male—White breast, black wings and back; head, dark green; eyes, golden; web feet. Female—White breast, dark gray back, mixed gray and white head; dark yellow or golden eyes; web feet."

That is a fairly good description of the American golden eye or whistlers wing duck in winter plumage, although no mention is made of the round, white spot the males have between the eye and base of bill. The similar Barrow golden eye has a white crescent in front of the eye.

Illinois hunters and naturalists associate these ducks with Lake Michigan, as they are lovers of big waters, being expert divers. As table birds they are rather poor in quality and much more interesting alive than dead."

Wild ducks have unexpected nesting habits. I once found a mallard in an old crow's nest; that was a freak mallard, but why in the world such lovers of wide, open waters as the golden eye, buffle head, and hooded merganser should nest in hollow trees is beyond us. No doubt such nesting sites are safer, and you expect it of the wood duck, but hardly of the divers."

Several large flocks of king eider and harlequin ducks have been noted recently on the lake front. As pointed out by a contributor last winter, the harlequin is quite common on Lake Michigan, although almost unknown to the majority of duck hunters."

ROBERT COLE NAMED TO CAPTAIN MAROON NINE NEXT SEASON

BY ALBON HOLDEN.

Baseball had its inning on the Midway yesterday, when Robert Cole was elected captain of the University of Chicago nine, and it was announced that Paul Hinkle had been offered a contract for the coming season with the New York Giants.

The election of Cole was no surprise, although he has never won a letter at the sport. Graduation in 1919, he played half back in 1919 and quarter back in 1920. His bunched shoulder, hurt in football last fall, is knitted with gold wires, and he expects to be in good shape.

Cole played part of the baseball season in 1919 and last year played centerfield on the Chicago team that toured Japan. No letters were awarded for the spring trip to the Orient.

Paul Hinkle has not decided whether he will join John McGraw's club on its spring training trip when he graduates in March, but he probably will decide next week. He also has been offered a job as assistant to Pat Page, athletic director at Butler college.

Hinkle won two letters in football at end, was three times an all conference basketball guard, and captained the 1920 Big Ten champions, and won three letters in baseball. During his high school and college days he has played every position. He wants to play the outfield if he goes to the Giants. "Hink" is now acting as assistant basketball coach.

THE GUMPS—HIP! HIP! HIP!

JOHN WILSON TO SHOW WARES TO LOCAL CRITICS

BY RAY PEARSON.

Our middleweight champion, Johnny Wilson, who hails from down Massachusetts way—the fellow who has been a target for jolting criticism because of his lack of activity—is going to fight Feb. 8. What's more, he's coming to this neck of the woods to don the padded mitts, and Chicago fans will have a chance to see him perform, for Promoter Bill Frazer has matched him with Navy Rostan of Joliet for a whirl at Kenosha.

JOHNNY WILSON.

Frazer hasn't quite recovered from his last matchmaking stunt, that Salter Freedman-Charley White affair, but he got "out from under" an unpleasant position in which the Wisconsin boxing commission found him, and now can go ahead staging shows.

Wilson will be favored. Navy Rostan hasn't had a bout for quite a spell, but judging by the way he is working at the Arcade gym, he might give any one of his poundage some trouble in the ring. However, it must be admitted that Wilson stands out as the class in the prospective bout, and will be favored at a good price in any betting done between now and Feb. 8.

The fellows about town were still talking yesterday about the Lew Teller-Willie Jackson bout of Wednesday night at Milwaukee and congratulating themselves on having been ring-siders. It sure was a great punching party.

Nearly $31,000 in House. It isn't often that one can guess the coin at an Auditorium show in the Chicago City, but the mark was almost hit on the Teller-Jackson bout when the gate was estimated at $31,000. The house ran just a few dollars short of that.

Jackson was paid a $10,000 guarantee, while Teller gambled on 35 percent. Lew got just $15 more than Willie for his night's work. The commission's share was $1,500 and Promoter Frank Mulken made a neat profit.

In the Wake of the News

FOR MORE MANLY TYPES.

DEAR WAKE: "Czar Kassen" is right—it's hard to decide whether to kiss the sweet things or kill 'em. Personally, when I encountered one of the "dear boys" partial to pearl spots, chamomile gloves, and the excuse for a collar with a knit shoe lace for a tie, I feel inclined to raise my "id." Their "one way pockets" are usually as empty as their brains.

Freddie T. L.

We'll help, too. And don't forget the youths with bell-bottom pants that would fit father and the "round-house" haircut. Their habitat is any tea dance.

The Ergs.

Just a word to the low-brow who calls any one who parts his hair in the middle a putty-faced chap. What's the difference, whether back, side, or middle? I will meet this misplaced "Czar Kassen" at his convenience and endeavor to convince him that my face in no way resembles putty. Yours for an equalized head of hair.

Fashion Plate.

Czar Kassen has said it. He is spokesman for the grand lodge of the Daily Razor Habit. The other night while throwing conversation across the table between dances Pair One opined as how: "In a few years we won't have any boys at all." She could say that—being an old pal and all that, you know. Where will we get our army for the next war?

Seats at Milwaukee Boxing.

While attending the Teller-Jackson bout at Milwaukee Wednesday night, I determined to learn why there never is any confusion in the seating arrangements and why every patron is assured of the location for which he pays. (The information might come useful in Illinois some time, y'know.)

Milwaukee bouts are held in the Auditorium, a building surpassed by Madison Square Garden, New York, in the number of spectators it will accommodate, but superior to the Garden otherwise. The ticket sellers, gatekeepers, ushers, and mechanical help are the regular Auditorium staff.

The boxing club puts on the show and accepts the receipts as turned over by the Auditorium. In fact, there is that needful factor, permanency, to the positions of the men who might otherwise be tempted to accept a tip or a bribe for slipping through persons without the proper pasteboards.

Paying the Freight.

Many Chicagoans journeyed to Milwaukee Wednesday and have journeyed there whenever there was an attractive glove quarrel. Here is a conservative estimate of each pilgrim's expense:

Train fare ..... $ 4.00
Chair car ..... 1.00
Supper on train ..... 1.50
Taxi to and from arena ..... 1.50
Seat at fight ..... 8.25
Total ..... $19.47

Of the $19.47 expense, $11.22, or over half, would be eliminated if boxing were permitted in Illinois.

Edwin L. Riley Appointed Braves' Business Manager

Boston, Mass., Jan. 27.—Edwin L. Riley, for the last five years road secretary of the Boston Nationals, was appointed business manager today. He succeeds Walter Hapgood, who resigned recently to become owner of the Rochester International league club jointly with George Stallings.

$700,000 OFFERED BY MONTREAL FOR JACK-GEORGES BOUT

BY HARRY NEWMAN.

New York, Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Montreal wants the Dempsey-Carpenter fight. C. F. Graham, representing a Montreal syndicate, had a lengthy conference today with Tex Rickard, during which he made an offer of $700,000 to take over the interests of everybody concerned in the original contract and stage the contest in the Canadian city. Graham also announced a willingness to have Rickard as a partner in staging the bout at Montreal July 2.

Have Plenty of Money.

Graham also said there was no need of worrying about the financial success of the undertaking and that all the necessary money would be raised immediately and deposited in a bank to guarantee the boxers against any losses.

Rickard said he would not do anything definite until Jack Kearns, the manager of Dempsey, arrived here Feb. 1. Rickard further explained to Graham that he was not certain about the status of Charles B. Cochran of London and William A. Brady, his partners in promoting the big bout.

It is understood Rickard was much impressed with the offer made by the Canadian, but indicated he preferred to go through with the match alone, believing his co-promoters, Cochran and Brady, have withdrawn definitely from the bout.

Want the Fight Badly.

When Graham was seen following the conference, he said: "I want that fight badly. If Rickard will not accept the offer I made I am willing to meet any terms he may propose. We have the money and the place to hold the contest and I firmly believe Rickard will come along with us. My offer of $700,000 is for the outright purchase of all rights in the fight, but if Rickard would prefer to stay in as a partner, we would be pleased to have it that way."

KANSAS MAY GET BOXING MEASURE

Topeka, Kas., Jan. 27.—A bill legalizing boxing contests in Kansas, but prohibiting prize fights, was ordered recommended for passage by a senate committee of the state legislature today. The measure provides for the appointment of an athletic director.

Geel! Mary Pickford, Mae Marsh, Griffith, All in One Picture!

"A BEAST AT BAY."
Produced by Biograph.
Directed by D. W. Griffith.

THE CAST:
The girl..... Mary Pickford
The man..... Edwin August
The beast..... Alfred Paget
The girl's friend..... Mae Marsh

By Mae Tinee.
Not yet a year ago when you noted the cast, director and producing company jotted down above! Didn't you? Reason I'm sure is that I did when, attending a theater to see another picture, the same thing was flashed on the screen before my startled eyes.

I sat up and took notice and, would you believe it, along came "Little Mary" in old fashioned clothes and a release!

Considering the things Griffith has been doing for the last few years, "A Beast at Bay" was the most unpretentious of offerings. The staging, as compared with that of the present day, was laughably crude. And you should have seen the funny old car the heroine rode about in!

I suppose, though, that when the movie was made the audience sat up and gasped. Look at her driving a car! How every saw a woman drive an automobile! How times have changed since then!

The story? Well, my dears, it was the exciting tale of a handsome man who loved a maid and was loved in return. One day, however, as the two were about to get into the car a hobo rode up and made annoying remarks. Nothing nasty—he just told the hero to go ahead and kiss the heroine and not mind him.

Well, the heroine thought the hobo should punch the hobo. But the hero was differently. What would her papa ask her, if he, the hero, were to involve darling daughter in a street brawl? After which the heroine felt about the same.

"Afraid to fight!" she hissed fit didn't be done, and she left him and rode away. Looked pretty serious for her young dream. But let us not forget the escaped convict!

An awful man was he! Having made away with a keeper, he donned the keeper's clothes. He saw little Mary coming laughing along the road in her two cylinder unlimited and made her take a passenger. He made her take him at an awful pace, too.

When, however, the pursuers, drew too close he made her go with him into an old shed, figuring they wouldn't dare do anything to him for fear of hurting her.

The hero was in the pursue party. And then he showed up for what he really was!

Did he save the scornful maiden? Ah—DID he! You should of watched him! Alone and single handed he boarded the beast at bay and proved himself a man that any girl could depend on.

Doesn't that sound funny for a Griffith picture? And it was so interesting to see Mae Marsh, Alfred Paget, Edwin August and our own "Little Mary" as they were in the old days

When Uncle Jim, who smoked many cigars in a day, came to visit in our home, where no one smokes, the small son of the house was much impressed, especially with the after dinner cigar. One noon he excused himself from the table, went and brought his little red chair, then, with a toy clothespin keeper's clothes. He saw little Mary coming laughing along the road in her two cylinder unlimited and made her take a passenger. He made her take him at an awful pace, too.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Ramekin Cookery.
Almost any meat, fish, or vegetable that is creamed may be served in a ramekin. The individual service is acceptable. A smaller portion is served than otherwise. That portion is agreeably over the fire until you have a thick cream sauce. A little nutmeg—but not enough to taste—will improve this, and onion juice, lemon juice, a bit of chopped parsley, and a number of other things may be added.

Melt two tablespoons of butter and stir into it until as smooth as velvet an equal amount of flour. Add to these one cup of milk cold and stir constantly over the fire until you have a thick cream sauce. A little nutmeg—but not enough to taste—will improve this, and onion juice, lemon juice, a bit of chopped parsley, and a number of other things may be added.

Sometimes a little onion chopped fine is gently sweated in the butter in the saucepan, covered closely and over the least fire, before the flour is worked into it and the milk added. A remarkably dainty sauce can be thus made with the addition of a bit of nutmeg.

A bit of baked shad or other white-fleshed fish fortunately left over shredded and cooked in this sauce will make a most dainty dish.

One cup of shredded fish is perhaps enough, but if you want to add some cream and an egg yolk, as some cooks do, you may use two cups. Cook this five minutes or so in the sauce, fill the buttered ramekins with the preparation, strewn with fine bread crumbs, dot with tiny bits of butter, bake until they puff or cook under broiler. Please do not send parcels to The Tribune, but write for the address of the applicant and send direct.

Although I am sorry I have to come to you again I, thank goodness, have been able to keep my position through the lay-off, but it has been otherwise with my father. A week before Christmas he fell and hurt his leg. He was laid up with that for three weeks and then when he returned to work, some one else had taken his place. It was hard to keep a family of six on my salary, as I am 17 years old and a clerk. If any of your readers has a dress or shoes I could have I would be so thankful. At present I have one suit and see no way of getting anything else for some time. I wear size 16 clothes; shoes 5 1/2 B. I can make things over, too.

BEAUTY ANSWERS
BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.
SIXTEEN: O, I WISH I COULD make you and all the other sweet young sixteen I know understand how much more beautiful is the unrouged face and the unperfumed lips. You have the greatest beauty asset in the world, the skin of youth. You will never have it again, and when you are older you will be spending money on creams and skin foods in an effort to recover the possession you are doing everything at 16 to spoil. Please take my word for it that every older woman envies you that glorious possession, and leave the rouge and powder and lip stick buying for the older sister whose natural bloom is fading.

NEWS OF SOCIETY

Winterbothams Give 'County Fair' Supper for the Scribblers

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Winterbotham of 474 Rush street are giving a "county fair" supper tonight for the Scribblers and their husbands. The supper will be given by the guests. The Scribblers are a group of writers who have been writing for the Chicago Daily Tribune for many years. The supper is a social event for the writers and their families.

Mr. Frederick R. Bakcock of Wheaton, who has been the guest of Mrs. Cassel and Alan Sharpe of 44 Bellevue place, on route from New York to California, left yesterday for Pasadena. At a luncheon to be given today at the Union League club plans will be discussed for a drive in behalf of the undernourished children of Western Illinois. Mrs. Frederick R. Bakcock, who works at St. Ann's (Montfort) hospital, is a mission in that land has been successful, with all of their needs. Mrs. Bakcock arrived yesterday from Brookline, Mass., and are guests of Mrs. Dorothy Stirling of 345 Harry street. Miss Harriet Thompson, the Dorothy Stirling, Philip D. Arneson III, Marshall Field III, Frank J. Leach, and John T. Pirie compose the committee on arrangements.

Mrs. George B. Carpenter of the hotel has returned from Monte Carlo, where she spent several months. Mrs. Harry T. Smith of the Harry T. Smith hotel has returned from a fortnight's visit with her mother, Mrs. J. T. Harris, of Dedham, Mass. Mrs. Warren W. Shoemaker of Hubbard Woods (Berkeley) will open her house today at 3:30 o'clock for a talk on current events by Mrs. Anthony French Merrill. Miss Betty Quick of 14 Bellevue place is going to New York for a brief stay, during which she will spend several weeks with Miss Alice Silverthorn at Bellevue, N. C. Mr. and Mrs. George Knox Owsley of Winnetka have gone to Castle Hot Springs, Ariz. Mrs. Malcolm Caruthers of 44 Banks road has gone to Key West, Fla. Mrs. Joseph Hunter Garabrant of 31 Elm street will move to the Ambassador hotel on Feb. 1. Later she will go to Florida for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin P. Dewes and children of 2314 Lincoln park west are going to Santa Barbara. Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—The Jan. 27 president and Mrs. Marshall were guests at dinner tonight at Mrs. Charles S. Brownell, who invited eighteen others to meet them. Representative and Mrs. Copley were among the guests at the dinner given last night at the Chevy Chase club by Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Ansberry for house guests. Gov. and Mrs. Copley were honor guests today at a luncheon given by the University general and Mrs. Palmer.

The Chicago Press Writers' club will give an informal dance tonight at the Chicago Athletic club for H. L. Lindner, president of the club for eight years, who is moving to New York. War Veterans will install officers tonight at their hall.

Chicago Singers' "Jewels" Fails to Dazzle New York

By JAMES WHITTAKER. New York, Jan. 27.—[Special.]—In the Manhattan tonight "The Jewels of the Madonna" was unheeded and unsung by the Chicago Opera company. In this report the performance will be unheeded. There is, indeed, nothing to report about it. The Chicago company chooses to make more fun of making a mistake than of making a mistake. And there was plenty of smashing tonight. Rosa Raisa bit her audience at the top of the second act. Kimmie, the aged, has fallen into an elderly habit of making his baritone. Happily that gave a sinister something to his role of the leader of the camera. And in the Apache dance, lashed into the organ beginning of the last act by Ballet Principal Oukrinsky and his partner, the chorus cycled; its teeth like castnets to mark the rough rhythm.

All of this fitted Wolf-Ferrari's score more closely than have countless better performances. This decadent German-Italian chose in the libretto of "The Jewels" a theme of thugs, sluts, and nastiness, and wrote music that glibly with his intended audience. There is an undeniable kick to this music. It has the unhealthy kick of boulevard alcohol Wolf-Ferrari composed in an unhealthy period for him. He is audibly a realist for romantic stuff and romance. When he put pen to ruled paper romance had just been proscribed by pussyfooting Richard Strauss of France to sham stuff—the romance which comes with bad stimulants when the other romance is dead?

Our performance of tonight was in the mood of artificial stimulus. It was crazy, vivid, and thrilling. But it was not the right note, the one she felt electrified you. And Conductor Cimint unleashed his orchestra to its fortissimo. Our performance of tonight was in the mood of artificial stimulus. It was crazy, vivid, and thrilling. ### "Way Down East" Given on Feb. 5 for Hoover Fund

A special performance of "Way Down East" has been arranged for Saturday morning, Feb. 5, at 10:30 o'clock for the benefit of the Hoover fund for starving children of Europe. A. H. Woods gives the theater, the producers give the film, and the musicians, who under their union rules must be paid, will turn back to the fund their pay for that morning. It is expected that $2,000 will be realized for the fund at this special performance. The drive for the Hoover fund at the picture houses on Wednesday last included two collections at Woods' theater, netting above $1,000. Hector Fuller, manager of "Way Down East," made the appeal in the afternoon, and Judge Harry M. Fisher of the Municipal court spoke in the evening. The estimate last night of the fund raised in all the Chicago movie houses was about $16,000. The Woodlawn theater, one of the largest of the outlying houses, turned in $288.60. Contributions from the Oakland Square theater were $221.55 and from the Metropolitan $223.45. The Radio theater collected $383.92 and Barbo's loop theater $212.55. Mrs. John McMahon was chairman of the 2,000 women who collected contributions in the 360 Chicago theaters that took part in National Movie day. Henry P. Chandler was in charge of furnishing speakers.

COUNSEL'S HEIRS SUED BY WIDOW OF LAWRENCE

What Became of Riches in Wallet? She Asks.

BY CHARLES A. SLOAN.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Following District Attorney Theodore Lewis' statement that the state had spent no money in investigation of the death of Richard Scott Lawrence, the widow, Mrs. Rachel Lawrence, the widow, filed a claim for $25,000 against the estate of T. C. Richmond, attorney whom her husband visited the day of his death.

Mrs. Lawrence alleges that on the afternoon of her husband's death he went to Richmond's office with a wallet "bulging with papers and securities," and that while the wallet later was recovered in Richmond's papers, the contents had disappeared.

Lawrence, the widow alleges, took the property to the attorney's office that he might verify the amount of money bequeathed in a will at that time being prepared, but which was never signed.

The wallet in question is the one which Mrs. Lawrence has declared contained all of Lawrence's private property, including the famous orange diamond, purchased by her husband in Denver.

No Arrests Planned.

District Attorney Lewis denied published reports that he was planning to arrest any one on suspicion. He added that he had uncovered no new facts in the last few days relative to the mystery. He characterized the report that he had placed guards at the Lawrence grave as "pure bunk."

Other rumors of powerful automobiles purchased by a person with handfuls of loose diamonds, of mysterious midnight journeys of a coal black bearer, of clues toward the present hiding place of the orange diamond were also declared to be either false or to have no connection with the Lawrence case.

Detective in Town.

With the return of Edward Lawrence, nephew of the dead man, tomorrow, it is expected a statement will be issued which will have bearing on the investigation.

E. P. Cunningham, detective, who investigated the Lawrence case for former District Attorney Roman Heilmann, arrived in the city today. He refused to explain his presence.

Impress New Customers at Our Semi-annual Shoe Sale

NEW customers are impressed with the fact—well known to our older patrons—that ours is the largest single retail stock of high-grade Shoes in the country. Not less remarkable do they find the new low prices. We mention these matters in no spirit of boastfulness but with sincere pride that we are able to serve the public so well. Only the abiding faith of generations of customers who have tested the sincerity of our standards and have been satisfied, can account for so notable a growth.

The Semi-annual Sale of Shoes for Men, Women and Children, now in full progress, embraces all our extensive stocks at greatly lowered prices.

Main Store, Fourth Floor, South, State; Basement, North, State. The Store for Men, Second Floor, Basement.

Boudoir Coats of Silk Special at $11.50 and $13.50

IT has been years since we have been able to offer such extraordinary values in Silk Boudoir Coats. The styles are quaint yet practical, and the materials, satin and taffeta, are very fine qualities. Quaint ruffling and tiny colored silk fruit make the Coats exceedingly attractive.

Sketched on the left is a charming Coat of taffeta, in boudoir tints, and also an unusual assortment in dark shades suitable for Pullman wear, $11.50. The Coat on the right is of two toned satin, and has silk fruit trimming at pockets, $13.50.

Fifth Floor, South, State.

Women's Athena Underwear Reduced

THERE are still many weeks in which to wear winter-weight Underwear. Our celebrated Athena Underwear is greatly lowered in price for rapid clearance.

Sleeveless, Knee-length Union Suits

Medium-weight, low necked Union Suits, very specially priced, are $1.50 and $1.75. Light-weight Union Suits in bodice top or fitted shoulder style are excellent values, $1.35 and $1.50.
